THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

There are eight new entries to the Top 20 this week, giving the impression that the chart is once again on the move after Christmas, but the overall improvement of 18% in singles sales from a 10 year low of 585,000 a fortnight ago to 691,000 last week is more than covered by just the top two singles – the Manic Street Preachers' The Masses Against The Classes (76,000) and Donell Jones' U Know What's Up (58,000) and the remainder of the sector remains thoroughly depressed, with sales down by 29% on the same week last year.

The fact the market is so low means that a couple of acts who both peaked at number 29 with their debut singles last Autumn have landed their first Top 10 singles this week without needing to gain that much widespread support. Scooch debut at number five with More Than I Needed To Know while Point Break enter at seven with Stand Tough. Scooch's latest single sold 20,900 copies last week compared to the 16,800 copies being almost double the 8,900 opening of Do We Rock – although a paltry figure for a Top 10 hit. Though vastly different from each in September 1998. That single sold 146,000 copies on its debut, while the Manics' last single Tsunami opened at number 11 last July with first week sales of less than 27,500. The Manics are only the third Welsh acts to have two number ones, the others being Tom Jones and Shirley Bassey. And The Masses Against The Classes is the Manics' 23rd hit, the highest tally by a Welsh group, though those two solo artists have had more.

other, the first week sales of the introductory Scooch and Point Break singles are both significantly higher than this week's number 29, Mr Hankey The Christmas Poo, which sold just 4,800 copies. And further demonstrating the pickup in sales is only selective, this week's number 75 sold only 905 copies, down five from last week.

While as many as 20 records have climbed within the Top 40 in recent weeks, we're down to just one this week – TLC's Dear Lie. The third single from the R&B trio's latest album, it has had a curious chart career to date. While predecessors No Scrubs and Unpretty peaked at number six, Dear Lie debuted at 32 and declined quickly, slipping to number 46 the next week. But since the late video was serviced it has improved four weeks in a row, moving first to 42, then 37, then 32 and now to its highest position to date, 31. It has sold fewer than 40,000 units, however, and has far to go before it nears No Scrubs (553,000) or Unpretty (210,000).

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

by ALAN JONES

Album sales tumbled again last week, allowing Travis to retain pole position on the chart even though their album The Man Who Sold Only a Fifth as many copies as it did when placed second a mere three weeks ago. The album sold just more than 40,000 copies last week and was poised to pass the 1,500,000 mark yesterday. It has distanced itself from the Shania Twain and Macy Gray albums, which sold 28,000 and 21,500 last week. But both of its rivals have new singles imminent (Don't Be Stupid will be the sixth offcut from Come On Over while Still is scheduled to be the third single from On How Life Is respectively) and should challenge for the chart leadership within a couple of weeks. Thereafter, the Grammy and Brit Awards should have an effect until all three albums are scuppered by the new Oasis set.

Just one place shy of its highest chart position to date, Britney Spears' ...Baby One More Time album will speed past the

SALES UPDATE

700,000 sales mark this week, and is destined to sell many more. Britney's fourth single Born To Make You Happy came out on Monday and is set to become her fourth straight Top 10 single, giving new impetus to the album as a result. Album sales continue

ALBUM FACTFILE

While I Try descends to its lowest position to date - number 22 - in a 16 week run on the singles chart, Macy Gray's debut LP On How Life Is improves a notch to number three on the album chart to equal the highest position of its 28 week chart career. On How Life Is has sold more than 800,000 copies so far, and its latest jump comes as airplay for Still, the album's third single, begins to take off. The single, due next month, should ensure that On How Life Is tops the million sales mark. Macy's album has also sold well throughout much of Europe, but has disappointed in the US. All that seems about to change, however, as exposure for I Try is finally beginning to seep through in the form of album sales, with the result that On How Life Is has moved 128-102-66 in the last fortnight on the Billboard Top 200.

Lowballed catalogue albums continue their invasion of the chart with Fleetwood Mac's Rumours and Eurythmics' Greatest Hits this week's highest placed re-entries at 42 and 52. The Corrs have three albums in the Top 15, primarily because of price cutting, with their debut Forgiven, Not Forgotten bouncing to number eight and Talk On Corners to number 11, both outselling Unplugged, which at 15, is more expensive than both together.

COMPILATIONS

Now That's What I Call Music! 44 extends its run atop the compilation chart to eight weeks, enjoying another easy victory as the Top 50 remains completely stagnant. Now! 44's sales tumbled by more than 38% week-on-week to just more than 24,000 but that's still nearly twice as many sales as Cream Anthems 2000, which jumps from sixth place to runners-up spot despite a very small increase in sales (Cream Anthems 2000, it should be said, is the ONLY album in the Top 50 to increase its sales last week). Now 44's sales last week were more than 49% higher than Now! 41 achieved in the same week last year, and comparisons between the two are becoming increasingly meaningless, not least because Now 41's sales to date

(1,157,000) are significantly less than those of Now! 44, which smashed through the 1,500,000 barrier on Saturday. The biggest selling album in the series to date, Now! 44 has not only sold at a much faster pace than Now! 41 but is likely to have a considerably longer burnout period. The way the Now! series has increased its domination in recent years suggests that, if the market remains healthy, next Christmas's effort (Now! 47 if the usual protocol is followed) could be the first Now! album to reach 2m sales. Incidentally, it's the first Now! album to be released on mini-disc and sold nearly 1,000 copies in its best week, the highest for any album in the format's history. It was one of the main reasons why mini-discs overhauled vinyl for three weeks before Christmas.
