CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

SINGLE FACTFILE

Eight years after topping the singles chart with her debut hit Dreams, Gabrielle returns to the summit with her 10th hit, Rise, which sold more than 77,000 copies last week to wrest control of the chart from Britney Spears. Spears dips to two with Born To Make You Happy, which sold more than 58,000 copies last week. Rise is the second single from Gabrielle's LP of the same name, following Sunshine, which reached nine last October. Dreams originally sampled Tracy Chapman's Fast

*Car but was re-recorded when Chapman refused permission to use it, but Gabrielle was more successful in getting permission from Bob Dylan to use a sample from his hit Knocking On Heaven's Door for Rise. Ironically, Dylan is Chapman's favourite artist and his more generous attitude to Gabrielle extended to waiving 50% of his royalties. Rise is his third number one as a writer, following the Byrds' Mr Tambourine Man (1965) and The Mighty Quinn, a number one for Manfred Mann 32 years ago.*

After the slowest start to the year for a long time, there's an explosion of new entries to the chart this week. The previous five weeks had seen just 30 singles enter the Top 75 but this week another 22 make their debut. This, and the fact that payday arrived last week for many monthly salary earners, gave the singles market a shot in the arm, with sales up 22% on the previous week.

Among the many artists delivering successful singles are newcomers Andreas Johnson and Daphne & Celeste, both of whom debut inside the Top 10, and REM whose 27th hit The Great Beyond may not turn out to be their biggest seller but is their highest-charting single to date, debuting at number three. By dint of selling nearly 49,000 copies last week, The Great Beyond tops the number four debut of REM's previous highest-charting hit, 1996's E-Bow The Letter. It's their first single since last year's number 10 hit At My Most Beautiful and gives them back-to-back Top 10 hits for the first time in their career. The Great Beyond is featured in the biopic of former Taxi star Andy Kaufmann which takes its name from another REM hit, 1992's Man On The Moon.

1999 was a year in which a higher percentage of hits were remixes of old hits than any other. It looks like this trend will continue in 2000, and this week sees two more records which have already done their bit taking flight again – with mixed results. The Space Brothers' 1997 debut hit Shine enters at 18 this week, beating the number 23 peak of the original, while LoveStation's revamped Teardrops is new at 24, 10 places below the position in which it peaked when released in 1998.

● Andy Macdonald has never had a hit but he certainly knows how to set them up. Macdonald is the former MD of Go! Discs and currently chairman of Independent, two record companies he built from the ground up. He left Go! Discs in unhappy circumstances after selling the company to PolyGram but his legacy and some of his artists remain, including Gabrielle, who has been with the label eight years and who claims the number one spot on the singles chart this week. Meanwhile, Independent's most successful act is Travis, who just happen to be number one on the album chart this week, giving Macdonald a unique double.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

ALBUM FACTFILE

A decade after reaching number eight with their last chart album - The Definitive Collection - Simon & Garfunkel return to the chart with Tales From New York - The Very Best Of... debuting at 9. They have sold millions of albums in Britain since their 1966 chart debut, with two number ones, three albums topping 100 weeks on the chart and four albums going platinum or beyond. Well beyond in the case of Bridge Over Troubled Water, their 1970 masterpiece which has sold more than 2m copies in the UK and spent in excess of 300 weeks in the chart, making it one of the 10 longest-running chart albums of all time. Their first ever 'best of' compilation - 1972's Greatest Hits - was also a multi-platinum long-runner, spending 283 weeks in the chart. All told, they have had a dozen chart albums spending nearly 1,100 weeks on the chart to date, while having just eight hit singles with a total of 87 weeks on the chart.

Women dominate the top end of the album chart this week, with four female solo artists in the top six. Travis continue at number one with The Man Who, which sold a further 38,000 copies, while last week's runner-up, William Orbit's Pieces In A Modern Style slips 2-5. Other than that, it's women all the way, with Britney Spears' Baby One More Time advancing 5-2, Gabrielle's Rise exploding 39-6 and Shania Twain and Macy Gray unmoved at three and four with Come On Over and On How Life Is.

Spears' album has been in the chart for 27 weeks, selling more than 730,000 copies, but it has never been higher than number four before. Gabrielle's album, which was released last October, also enjoys its best week yet as the title track debuts at number one on the singles chart. Rise previously climbed no higher than 25, and had sold 32,000 copies, disappearing from the Top 200 for several weeks. Last week alone it sold nearly 18,000. The success of Spears, Twain, Gray and Gabrielle has been due almost entirely to exposure gained by hit singles, proving yet again that while singles are released less frequently elsewhere, they remain the key to album chart success in the UK.

The Ministry Of Sound's Clubber's Guide To...2000 album can't match the scorching pace with which it debuted, but still managed a highly creditable 43,000 sales last week to take its tally past 90,000 after a fortnight - a red hot pace for this time of year.

By comparison, Clubber's Guide To...99 had sold 52,000 at the same stage a year ago, putting the 2000 edition of the album a massive 73% up.

The speed at which the latest Clubber's Guide is selling means that Universal Music's Clubmix 2000 has to settle for a number two debut this week, even though its sales of nearly 27,000 would have put it at number one in the compilation chart in the comparative week in each of the last five years.

It's a tribute to the massive clout that the Ministry Of Sound brand now has that Clubber's Guide To...2000 can sell so well, given the fact that only 10 of its 41 tracks have been Top 20 hits thus far, the remainder being comparatively unknown material such as Saints And Sinners by the Clergy, Angel by Ralph Fridge, More And More by Spoiled & Zigo and Byrd Man's Revenge by Mike Delgado. Clubmix 2000's 43 tracks include more than 30 Top 20 hits.

Aside from Clubmix 2000, the only new entry to the Top 20 is This Is...Trancelfe, the first Beechwood compilation to reach the Top 20 in a while. In at 19, it's the first fruits of Beechwood's new distribution deal which sees the label and the associated Jazz FM, Hed Kandi and Cartel labels among others, moving to Pinnacle from BMG. This Is...Trancelfe is a triple CD retailing for the price of one.
