THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

MARCH 25 2000

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Geri Halliwell becomes the first woman in chart history to have 10 number ones, with Bag It Up becoming her third solo chart-topper this week. Halliwell also participated in the first seven of the Spice Girls' eight number ones, and the success of Bag It Up puts her ahead of three women with nine number ones – Abba's Frida and Agnetha and Madonna, who reached the figure with American Pie only a fortnight ago.

The soundtrack album to the Leonardo Di Caprio movie The Beach surrenders its third hit to the chart in just seven weeks, with the arrival of Dario G's Voices at number 37. The album also houses All Saints' chart-topper Pure Shores and Orbital & Angelo Badalamenti's number 36 hit Beached. The Dario G track is featured in the film twice in different versions and is the fourth hit for the oddly-named Crewe group (they were named in tribute to Crewe Alexandra football club's manager Dario Gradi). All of the hits, including Voices, have come from their debut album

SINGLE FACTFILE

It's a question of timing: Geri Halliwell lands her third number one hit in a row this week with Bag It Up debuting in pole position. It does so despite selling fewer copies than either Mi Chico Latino, which opened with sales of 132,000 last August, and Lift Me Up, which registered 139,000 sales in its first week last November. Bag It Up sold more than 106,000 copies last week. Ironically, the biggest first week sale achieved by Geri since departing the Spice Girls came from her debut solo single, Look At Me, which sold 142,000 when it debuted at number two last May, failing by a tiny margin – 748 sales – to reach number one in a head-to-head battle with Boyzone's You Needed Me. Even before Bag It Up Geri had sold more than 1m singles, with Mi Chico Latino shifting 365,000 copies compared to Lift Me Up's 330,000 tally and Look At Me's 330,000.

has been building for some time and Enema Of The State sold well in excess of 20,000 copies before it even charted. In the US, All The Small Things peaked at six in January, while Enema Of The State has sold more than 3m copies in the past 10 months.

Reputedly written in less than an hour, by Adam Tinley and Sealhenry Samuel, aka Adamski and Seal, Killer is one of only a handful of songs ever to reach the Top 10 in four versions – and the only one to do it in less than 10 years. The original version by Adamski, with Seal on vocals, topped the chart in 1990, taking six weeks to reach number one and staying there for a further four. The following year, it was the title track of a Seal EP which reached number eight, and in 1993 it formed part of the number one Queen Five Live EP, being performed as a medley with Papa Was A Rolling Stone by George Michael. The latest version to hit the charts is credited to ATB but the vocals, though uncredited on the single, are performed by Drue Williams.

MUSIC WEEK MARCH 25 2000

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

by ALAN JONES

The benefit of their double Brits win is beginning to wear off but Travis' album The Man Who Still Had Enough impetus to sell more than 48,000 copies last week, romping to another easy chart victory. The album, which came out on 24 May last year, has now spent 10 of its 43 chart weeks at number one, while selling nearly 1.9m copies.

Among the acts chasing Travis, Santana and Tom Jones climb to two and three respectively while Macy Gray drops to four with On How Life Is despite the number 18 debut of its third single, Still. On How Life Is sold more than 32,300 copies last week and has now passed the 1m sales mark, a rare feat for any debut album, particularly one by an American woman, though Britney Spears will probably make the grade soon too, with her Baby One More Time currently around the 880,000 sales mark.

With Geri Halliwell already at number one on the singles chart and Melanie C looking to repeat the feat, interest in both the former and current Spice stars' albums is increasing

The Vengaboys success story continues. With six Top Five hit singles under their belts, representing sales of well in excess of 2m singles, the Vengaboys are one of the most popular singles acts around. And, unusually for a pop/dance act, they have managed to translate that popularity into album sales. Their debut album, The Party Album, which contained their first four hits – Up And Down, We Like To Party (The Vengabus), Boom, Boom, Boom, Boom! and We're Going To Ibiza – reached number six, and has sold more than 500,000 copies to date. The follow-up, The Platinum Album, is home to Kiss (When The Sun Don't Shine) and Shalala Lala, and debuts this week at number nine. The Vengaboys are the first Positiva act to have two Top 20 albums – and the first Dutch act to have two Top 20 albums since Stars On 45 originators Starsound in 1981.

rapidly. Both make upward progress for the third straight week. Halliwell's Schizophrenic climbs 15-11, while Mel C's Northern Star jumps 13-12. Halliwell's album still has some way to go to match its previous peak of number four, registered last June, while Mel C's Northern Star is just behind the number 10 peak it achieved in October. Halliwell still leads the sales race overall, with 370,000 sales compared to Mel C's 230,000.

A fortnight after making her singles chart debut, Norwegian newcomer Lene Marlin's Playing My Game album enters at 18. The album has already been a success in Europe, where it has sold more than 800,000 copies.

While its UK decline is nowhere near as dramatic as its 24-84 slump in America, Oasis' Standing On The Shoulder Of Giants is still falling. The album skids 2-6 this week, with sales off by 56%. That's steep – but nothing compared to the unprecedented 85% fall it experienced when dropping from its first week 311,000 to 49,000 last week.

Steely Dan's excellent reunion album Two Against Nature has sold 30,000 copies in its first three weeks in the shops, and is thus halfway to silver. It's worth noting that their 1973 debut album Can't Buy A Thrill took three years to get that far.

COMPILATIONS

The tide finally goes out on The Beach this week, as the Leonardo Di Caprio soundtrack sinks to third place after three weeks in pole position. It thus equalled the run of The Full Monty, the only other soundtrack to reach number one on the compilation chart since Whitney Houston and pals bedded in for 11 weeks with The Bodyguard soundtrack in 1993.

The album which ends The Beach's reign is New Hits 2000, the first of this year's Hits series from the Warner/EMI/Global TV/Sony partnership – and who knows how many more there will be, given the proposed AOL/Warner/EMI tie-up. Last year, the Hits series sold nearly 1.9m albums, peaking with Huge Hits 99's sales topping the 550,000 mark. New Hits 2000's 40 hits include William Orbit's Barber's Adagio For Strings, Nu Generation's In Your Arms (Rescue Me) and the track which is currently on more hit albums than any other, Movin' Too Fast by Artful Dodger & Romina Johnson. It also includes one much-sought track which has yet to get a commercial release, the Trueteppers' garage monster Buggin', which features vocals by Another Level's Dane Bowers. Westlife score a double royalty from the album, which features both sides of their hit I Have A Dream/Seasons In The Sun among its five number ones.

It's more than a year since there were two soundtrack albums in the Top 15 together but the Beach is joined this week by the soundtrack to The Million Dollar Hotel, which includes well-publicised tracks by Bono solo and by U2, as well as three versions of Lou Reed's Satellite Of Love. The album sold more than 6,800 copies last week and debuts at 13.
