CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Craig David makes an impressive solo chart debut at number one with Fill Me In, which romps to the top of the chart with more than 165,000 sales – more than its two nearest challengers Flowers (80,000) and A Song For The Lovers (70,000) added together. The 18-year-old singer from Southampton is the youngest male solo artist to have a number one hit since America's Glenn Medeiros (also 18) with Nothing's Gonna Change My Love For You

SINGLE FACTFILE

In 1988, David is, surprisingly, the youngest-ever UK male soloist to reach number one, beating the previous mark set by a 19-year-old Chesney Hawkes with The One And Only in 1991. Fill Me In was penned by David and Artful Dodger's Mark Hill, the only younger singer-songwriter to top the chart being Canada's Paul Anka who was, incredibly, just a month past his 16th birthday when his completely self-penned hit Diana topped the chart in 1957.

Chart history is made this week as the top six singles in the land are new entries for the first time ever. The top five have been new entries – but only once, this being on 31 October 1998, when Cher's Believe stormed to the top pursued but never caught by hits from George Michael, U2, Culture Club and Alanis Morissette. This week's intake stretches to seven of the Top 10, equalling another record, and the simultaneous arrival of so many major records boosts singles sales by some 15%.

Craig David leads the way, registering the first number one hit for both himself and for the Telstar group of labels – which is the same age as its new star (18) – courtesy of Fill Me In, which was released on Wildstar, the label set up as a joint venture between Telstar and Capital Radio in 1997. David was formerly in the chart as guest vocalist on Artful Dodger's Re-Rewind, which reached number two last December, being deprived of top spot only by The Millennium Prayer, which earned Cliff Richard the honour of being the oldest British male solo artist to have a number one, while David is now the youngest British male solo artist. Cliff himself had a number one at 18 but not solo – Living Doll, the song in question, was marketed as being by Cliff Richard & The Drifters, the latter act later being renamed The Shadows to avoid confusion with the US group of the same name.

Aside from David, the acts who participated in the first-ever all-new top six include a trio of chart debutants – new garage act Sweet Female Attitude, US rap/rock act Bloodhound Gang and Dutch dance act Lock'n'Load – Verve vocalist Richard Ashcroft's solo debut and the latest hit from Steps. The latter act's Deeper Shade Of Blue is their seventh straight top five hit, and their ninth Top 20 hit since breaking through just more than two years ago.

It must be many years since we have had consecutive entries in the chart by country records – but this week sees Irish veteran Daniel O'Donnell's latest, Light A Candle, in at 23, just ahead of US favourites Lonestar's debut UK hit Amazed. O'Donnell has had at least one hit every year since 1992, and Light A Candle is his 16th hit. Amazed was a number one hit for Lonestar in the US earlier this year, and its release here comes hot on the heels of its debut on the airplay chart last week.

MUSIC WEEK APRIL 15 2000

by ALAN JONES

Two weeks ago, 18 of the Top 20 albums increased their sales over the previous week. Last week they all sold fewer copies than the week before, even Westlife's self-titled album, which climbs 7-3, returning to a position it has not held since January 15, and Melanie C's Northern Star, which leaps 12-5, thus beating its previous highest (debut) position of number 10. The album which loses least, however, is Moby's Play, sales of which are down a modest 4.6% in a market that is down overall by some 24%. The Moby album sold nearly 49,000 units last week, and finally rises to the top of the album chart on its 20th appearance in the Top 75, some 37 weeks after it was released. Overall sales of Play now exceed 330,000. Returning to Melanie C's album, it should be noted that Northern Star has sold 290,000 units in six months, and is now catching up with Geri Halliwell's Schizophonic album, which sinks 16-23 this week, with just fewer than 7,500 buyers last week, and more than 417,000 in

ALBUMS FACTFILE

The Mute label was set up by Daniel Miller in 1978, its initial release being his own TVOD/Warm Leatherette single, which was credited to The Normal. Mute released its first album, DAF's Die Kleinen Und Die Bosen, in July 1980 and this week registers its ninth number one album, a feat which makes it one of the most successful indie labels in album chart history. Moby's Play is the latest Mute success, and the first number one on the label not to be connected with Depeche Mode. The latter have had two number one albums, first in 1993 with Songs Of Faith & Devotion and again in 1997 with Ultra, which was Mute's last number one before Moby. Original Depeche Mode member Vince Clarke and Alison Moyet teamed up as Yazoo and gave Mute its first number one album in 1982, and Clarke's Erasure collaboration with Andy Bell accounts for its five other number ones.

total. It has been in the shops for 18 weeks longer than Melanie C's album, and has spawned one more single.

They may have been dance act Sub Sub in a previous existence but that hasn't stopped Doves becoming critical darlings. Their debut album under their new name, Lost Souls, has been widely acclaimed as one of the guitar albums of the year, which helps explain its arrival on the album chart at number 16, a fortnight after their single The Cedar Room reached number 33 on the singles list. Lost Souls is the highest of five debuts on the album chart this week – though it was nearly overtaken by Marvin At The Movies, the latest MOR/instrumental selection recorded by Shadows guitarist Hank Marvin. The album, which debuts at number 17, is the 58-year-old guitarist's seventh solo success, the only one to chart higher being his 1969 self-titled solo debut.

Madonna's cover of the title track triggered Capitol's release of American Pie – The Greatest Hits by Don McLean, which found more than 6,000 buyers last week to earn a number 30 debut on the album chart. It is McLean's first appearance in the chart since an earlier Very Best Of Don McLean compilation climbed to number four in 1980.

COMPILATIONS

After a massive leap due to Mother's Day, sales of compilations suffered a similarly substantial slump last week to return to their previous level. The Mother's Day-specific albums all suffered badly, with New Woman 2000 down 1-3, That Ole Devil Called Love sinking 5-11 and For You freefalling 4-19. Their decline opened the way for the fourth number one compilation in as many weeks – a rare event – namely Dance Nation, the Tall Paul/Brandon Block mix album on the Ministry Of Sound label. It is a measure of how much the market collapsed week-on-week that Dance Nation moves 2-1 even though its sales sag by 27%. It is the Ministry Of Sound's third number one album of the year to date, following Clubbers' Guide To...2000, which topped the chart for two weeks in January, and Rewind – The Sound Of UK Garage, which was number one the last week in February. The latter album has sold 160,000 units to date, an historically good figure for a garage compilation but significantly fewer than Warner's Pure Garage, which has sold 205,000 copies thus far, making it the biggest-selling compilation of the year. The sales of both Pure Garage and Rewind – and a couple of others too – illustrate the rise of garage so far in 2000. The biggest-selling garage compilation of 1999 sold just 52,000 units.

Pokemon war is about to rage on the album chart. Atlantic's Pokemon – The First Movie soundtrack improves 19-16, and is within an ace of dethroning The Beach as the number one soundtrack album, while Koch's TV Soundtrack Pokemon – 2 B A Master replaces Buffy The Vampire Slayer as the number one TV soundtrack album, and enters the compilation chart at number 29.
