CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Number 30 when first released last November, Aussie duo Madison Avenue's proto-feminist disco/house anthem Don't Call Me Baby improves on that by 29 places this week, debuting at number one.

The biggest selling record in Australia since 1996, it was originally released on the tiny Vicious Vinyl label, and has been a major success around the world with Sony and Virgin as main licensees. In Britain, it appears on Virgin's VC Recordings, for which it is the first ever number one. Madison Avenue are DJ Andy Van and vocalist Cheyenne Coates, and Baby is the first number one here by an Australian act since Baz Luhrmann's Sunscreen hit last July. It's the first UK number one recorded in the country by an Antipodean act since Men At Work's Down Under in 1983 - Jason, Kylie and Peter Andre's hits were all UK creations.

Britney Spears' number one position in the singles chart is cut short after just one week, with Oops!...I Did It Again slipping to number two, the 80,000 sales it achieved last week being nearly 14,000 short of the opening total which earned Madison Avenue's Don't Call Me Baby top billing and a similar amount ahead of third placed Tom Jones & Mousse T's Sex Bomb.

Autophilia is a big feature of this week's chart with the Bluetones' single of that title (the first fruits of their upcoming Science & Nature album) in at number 18, while Armand Van Helden's single Koochy is based very heavily on Gary Numan's perennially popular Cars. Van Helden is one of a slew of contemporary dance talents to have taken inspiration from his repertoire. Cars which was originally a number one for Numan in 1979, has returned to the chart on no fewer than three separate occasions in new mixes, reaching number 16 in 1987, number 53 in 1993 and number 17 in 1996.

Numan was thinking of doing yet another mix of the track but is reportedly very happy with Van Helden's adaptation of the track.

Nicki French's Don't Play That Song Again saw two disappointing performances this weekend first when Don't Play That Song

Again slumped to 16th position in the Eurovision Song Contest - the lowest placing by a British entry in the competition's history - and secondly when it fell short of the Top 75, selling fewer than 1,000 copies to check into the chart at number 89. The winner of the 45th competition was the Danish entry Fly On The Wings Of Love by the Olsen Brothers. They are only the second Danish act to win (the first in 1963) and the second male duo to win, following Ireland's Paul Harrington and Charlie McGettigan in 1994. Comprising siblings Jorgen (49, also the writer of the song) and Niels (45) they are also the oldest act to win the competition. Their song, romped home with 195 points, 40 ahead of runners-up Russia.

Veterans Iron Maiden extend their chart career to more than 20 years this week, debuting at number nine with The Wicker Man, which is their first hit of the millennium, their 12th Top 10 hit and their 30th hit in total.

MUSIC WEEK MAY 20 2000

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

MAY 20 2000

by ALAN JONES

Vital Distribution extends its lock on the album chart summit to six weeks but the top two switch places, as Moby's Play is overtaken by Tom Jones' Reload. Jones' album sold more than 33,500 copies last week, nearly 7,000 more than Moby's.

Travis' The Man Who was released a year ago next week, and has picked up recently as the band's upcoming single Coming Around – which appears on their as yet untitled new album and not The Man Who – gains widespread radio support. The Man Who bounced 12-7 last week, and retains that position again this week. It remains the biggest selling album of the year, the 614,000 copies it has sold to date in 2000 bringing its overall tally to more than 2m. Meanwhile, Oasis' Standing On The Shoulder Of Giants, which has occupied second place for the year since it came out, loses that position this week, even as it passes the 450,000 sales mark. It was overtaken on Saturday by both Shania Twain's Come On

Tom Jones celebrates his 60th birthday in a couple of weeks, and receives an early present from UK record buyers this week, with his album Reload returning to number one for the first time since it debuted there last October, while the album's latest single Sex Bomb debuts at number three. Sex Bomb pairs Tom with German dance guru Mousse T and is both the highest charting of four hits from Reload and Tom's highest charting single since The Boy From Nowhere reached number two in 1987. The previous hits from Reload – which has now sold nearly 820,000 copies – are Bringing Down The House (number seven, with the Cardigans), Baby It's Cold Outside (number 17, with Cerys from Catatonia) and Mama Told Me Not To Come (number four, with the Stereophonics). Sex Bomb is the only original track on the album, all of the others are remakes.

Dr Dre's 2001 album was released last November and took nearly six months to reach the Top 10, finally arriving last week, when it jumped 17-10 as exposure for the upcoming single Forgot About Dre (with Eminem) focused attention on the album. It makes a further major leap this week, surging 10-4, although its sales are up only 16% week-on-week. It's now the highest ranking hip hop album, however, since the Wu-Tang Clan's Wu-Tang Forever topped the chart almost exactly three years ago.

Live albums reach the Top 10 rarely but the late Jeff Buckley registers his second straight Top 10 album, both posthumous, this week, with Mystery White Boy – Live 95-96 debuting at number eight, with sales of more than 9,000. Buckley's final recordings, issued under the title Sketches For My Sweetheart The Drunk, reached number seven two years ago to the week. The singer-songwriter was drowned on 29 May 1997.

Eagle-Eye Cherry narrowly misses the top 10 this week with Living In The Present Future. Debating at number 12, nine places down on the peak of his 1996 debut album.

COMPILATIONS

The top four compilations remain unchanged this week, which means Now That's What I Call Music! 45 scores its fourth straight week at number one. The album, which contains hits like Heart Of Asia by Watergate, Show Me The Meaning Of Being Lonely by the Backstreet Boys and both Artful Dodger hits (Re-Rewind The Crowd Say Bo Selecta and Movin' Too Fast), sold more than 51,000 copies last week, to bring its sales to date to more than 450,000. That's 30% down on the previous week, representing its slowest decline yet. It is still lagging some way behind last spring's Now release Now That's What I Call Music! 42, which sold 54,000 copies on its fourth week in the chart to take its total then point to 489,000. Now! 42 actually returned to the Top 50 a couple of weeks ago, having been reduced to £5.99 by Woolworth's, a discount which has been rewarded by sales of around 5,000 extra copies in the last three weeks. It's in decline again, however, sliding 31-39 this week.

Number two album Trance Nation 3 which was looking to become the fourth number one compilation from the Ministry Of Sound label this year, saw its sales dip by a quarter last week, and it was outsold by a margin of five to two by the Now album. In two weeks in the shops, Trance Nation 3 has sold nearly 50,000 copies.

Sales of compilations saw a double digit decline last week for the third week in a row, the 466,300 sold last week being a massive 38% (284,000) down on the 750,000 tally the week Now! 45 was released.
