MUSIC WEEK MAY 27 2000

CHART COMMENTARY

It took 33 years for Sandie Shaw to be toppled by Britney Spears as the youngest female solo star to have three number ones – but it has taken just two weeks for Spears to lose the title. The new champion is Billie Piper, the Swindon-born vocalist who topped the chart in 1998 with her first two singles, Because We Want To and Girlfriend, and returns to the summit this week with Day & Night. Piper was born on September 22, 1982, and is therefore 17 years and eight months old. Spears was born on December 2, 1981, and was 18% when she topped the chart with Oops! I Did It Again a fortnight ago. Piper records for Innocent, a member of the Virgin group along with VC Recordings, which held the number one slot last week with Madison Avenue. It is the first time in its 27-year history that Virgin has had consecutive number ones.

MUSIC WEEK MAY 27 2000

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

MAY 27 2000

by ALAN JONES

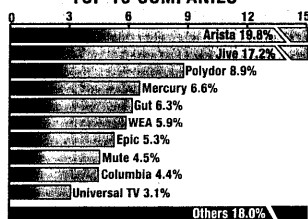

Whitney Houston registers only the second number one album of her career this week, debuting in pole position with The Greatest Hits, having previously topped the chart with 1987's Whitney. The album, which sold more than 89,000 copies last week, was helped by some serious discounting – with Woolworths offering the double album for as little as £9.99 in certain stores (see story, front page) – and also by the fact that it contains both new tracks and exclusive mixes. It is one of five new entries in the top seven, in a week which saw artist album sales climb 17% last week – an unusual occurrence mid-month.

Aside from Houston, the other artists who created this modest sales boom were Britney Spears, Pearl Jam, Paul Simon and the Bluetones. Among those who suffered as a result of the influx of acts was Dr Dre, whose 2001 album stumbles 4-9, even as its sales climb week-on-week by 10% to reach a new high of more than 12,700. And even though Tom Jones' Reload slides 1-3, it also manages a 7% sales increase.

This week was always going to be one in which an 'itney' was going to be number one, but most pundits believed it was going to be Britney rather than Whitney, and all the early indications were that they would be proved correct.

Spears established a lead of more than 6,000 over her rival but faded on Saturday, allowing Houston to take the throne. Spears can take some solace from the fact that the 88,000 sales generated by Oops! I Did It Again last week was the highest tally for a number two album in the chart this year, even though the record was slightly more than 1,200 sales short of Houston's own total.

With three number one singles, Spears has still to reach the top of the album chart – her debut album Baby One More Time also peaked at number two but has sold over 940,000 copies.

the record which found its way into more homes than any other last week was the Eurythmics' Peace Is Just A Word, which was given away with upwards of a million copies of the Sunday Times. In addition to the title track, the free CD included 17 Again and Beautiful Child, with all three tracks featured in both studio and live renditions.

As Peace Is Just A Word is the next Eurythmics single, this appears to be a reckless act of self-sabotage, but its purpose, as far as the group was concerned, was to sell more copies of the Peace album from which it is taken. As such, it seems to have succeeded in modest fashion, with the album selling nearly 2,000 copies last week – enough for it to rise 163-72. The Sunday Times also carried an interview with the duo, and a voucher offering readers the chance to purchase their Greatest Hits album for just £5.99 at HMV – an offer which propels the album 61-21 on the chart this week.

COMPILATIONS

What a difference seven days makes. A week ago, seven of the 10 best-selling albums in the land were compilations, but the release of a slew of hot artist albums, combined with a shortage of strong compilations, saw artist album sales soar 17% while compilations shrunk by 11%, allowing the positions in the overall Top 10 to be reversed – now there are only three compilations holding a place, compared to seven artist albums. And, after four straight weeks as the number one album overall, Now That's What I Call Music! 45 slips to third place this week. It is still the number one compilation though, its sales of 39,500 last week being a massive 25,000 more than those of Kiss House Nation 2000, its distant runner-up. Now! 45's total sales to date are 494,000, almost 8% off the pace set by last spring's now album, Now! 42.

All four new entries to the Top 20 this week are dance albums – the Inspired label's Ultimate Agia Napa leading the way at number seven with 10,000 sales, followed by Big Tunes 2000 at number nine (including seven number one hits), The Galaxy Hit Mix at number 14 and the live mix album Uruguay – Darren Emerson at number 20. There are only two other new entries to the Top 50 – and they are both dance compilations too.

It never climbed higher than number four but the Notting Hill soundtrack – featuring the likes of Ronan Keating, the Lighthouse Family and Elvis Costello – has now completed a whole year in the Top 50. It celebrates its birthday by sprinting 38-33. Sales to date: 368,000.
