THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

22 JULY 2000

by ALAN JONES

After losing approximately 50% of his sales on a technicality, Ronan Keating still manages to register his second solo number one hit with some ease. At the age of 23, Keating has an incredible 13 number ones to his credit – six as a member of Boyzone, five as co-manager of Westlife and two solo. His debut solo single When You Say Nothing At All spent two weeks at number one last August, and has sold more than 530,000 copies.

Its first week tally was more than 197,000, a total which could nearly have been matched last week by his new single Life Is A Rollercoaster. In topping the chart with his two solo singles to date, Keating has reaffirmed himself as Boyzone's mainman, particularly in comparison to recent solo debuts by Stephen Gately and Mikey Graham, who had to settle for number three and number 13 positions respectively.

For only the third time in chart history, one Irish act has replaced another at number one – and each time the feat has involved Ronan Keating. As a member of Boyzone, Keating was knocked off the summit by both B*Witched and Westlife last year. This week, his second solo single, Life Is A Rollercoaster, curtails the reign of The Corrs' first number one, Breathless – but not without a dramatic turn of events which robbed him of about half of his sales. Life Is A Rollercoaster was issued on two CDs and a cassette. The main CD, featuring an interview with Keating as its multi-media track, was deemed ineligible for the chart, leaving Polydor with sales of only a limited edition second CD and the cassette single counting towards the chart. They quickly deleted the ineligible CD, pressed up further quantities of the previously limited CD and rushed another CD into production to count as the third format. In early sales flashes, Keating's single looked likely to come close to matching the 199,000 sales which earned All Saints' Pure Shores the highest weekly tally of the year but the final count of sales for eligible formats of Life Is A Rollercoaster amounts to just under 94,500 – a far cry from Pure Shores' total but still 50% more than The Corrs' 63,000 tally for Breathless.

After a record-equalling seven new entries to the Top 10 last week, there are just two this week – Ronan Keating's Life Is A Rollercoaster and Aaliyah's Try Again. The latter track, a recent number one in America, is Aaliyah's 14th hit and her first to reach the Top 10. It debuts at number five, with sales of 38,000, easily beating the number 11 peak of her previous biggest hit, 1998's Are You That Somebody.

While Aaliyah has reached the Top 10 for the first time, 'N Sync fall short of it, bringing to a close their run of three Top 10 successes in a row. 'N Sync had their biggest hit to date in March, reaching number three with Bye Bye Bye, the introductory single from their No Strings Attached album. The follow-up, I'll Never Stop, debuts at 13 this week, six places above Christina Aguilera with her third single, I Turn To You.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

by ALAN JONES

Coldplay's impressive first week sales ensure that Eminem's The Marshall Mathers LP slips back to number two again this week, despite selling a further 56,000 copies. The Eminem album has sold more than 440,000 copies in eight weeks, and has remained in the top three throughout its career to date, with weekly sales remaining consistently above 40,000.

Morcheeba earned great critical acclaim when signed to the independent China label and were thought to be one of the main reasons why Warner Music acquired the imprint. China has since been folded into East West, and Morcheeba's new album Fragments Of Freedom has had somewhat mixed reviews. Nevertheless, it debuts this week at number six, becoming easily the band's highest charting album, beating the number 70 success of their debut album Who Can You Trust? and the number 18 peak of their critically acclaimed 1998 set Big Calm. Fragments Of Freedom sold

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

UK: 37.3% US: 52.0% Other: 10.7%

The chart has been wildly distorted by summer sales offers in recent weeks but Parlophone act, did so in 1997. It is the first Parlophone album to reach number one since Radiohead's OK Computer, also in 1997, and comes just a month after Kylie Minogue's Spinning Around became the label's first number one single for seven years. Coldplay's album was helped by some sympathetic pricing (it was available for as little as £9.99 in some stores) and follows excellent live performances this summer.

this week's biggest resurgence is due to other factors. Tina Turner's Twenty Four Seven album rockets 150-15, eight months after peaking at number nine. Its sales last week increased by 676% – a result of the album being repackaged with a bonus CD featuring live tracks. Twenty Four Seven has sold modestly compared to many of Tina's previous albums but its latest surge take it past the 300,000 mark.

Only the second Oasis single to feature lead vocals by Noel Gallagher (the first was the 1996 chart-topper Don't Look Back In Anger), Sunday Morning Call's comparatively slow decline (it falls 4-11 on its second week, while the group's last single Who Feels Love skidded 4-17 at the same stage) gives the embattled group a boost. It has worked wonders for the parent album Standing On The Shoulder Of Giants, which jumped 65-45 last week and now leaps to number 22.

COMPILATIONS

An 18% decline in sales of Fresh Hits – Volume 1 isn't enough to prevent the latest in the successful Warner.esp/Global TV/Sony TV series from retaining pole position for a second week. The compilation sold nearly 34,000 copies last week, to bring its two week tally to almost 75,000, exactly matching the pace of a comparable release last year, Fresh Hits 99. That must come as a relief to the partners behind the album, bearing in mind the significant downturn in sales of the latest album in the other main compilation series, EMI/Virgin/Universal's Now That's What I Call Music! Sales of Now! 45 reached the 650,000 mark last week, its 13th on release. While that is enough to make it easily the biggest selling compilation of the year, it is some 34,000 (5%) behind the pace of last year's equivalent, Now! 42.

The album which came closest to Fresh Hits – Volume 1 this week is Kiss Clublife Summer 2000, which debuts at number two with nearly 30,000 sales. The album includes a 20-page booklet about clubbing abroad, and features 39 tracks on two mixed CDs, including Darude's Sandstorm, Toca's Miracle by Fragma and Spiller's upcoming monster Groovejet, which checks into the singles chart at number 40 this week, despite having spent two weeks at the top of the club chart.

Mission: Impossible 2's excellent soundtrack increases its sales by a further 17%, and climbs 15-12 as a result. The album, which peaked at number two in America behind Eminem, has already sold 30,000 copies here.
