MUSIC WEEK 30 SEPTEMBER 2000

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

After charting in partnership with global giants such as Luther Vandross, Boyz II Men and Whitney Houston, Mariah Carey's shrewd decision to plump for Westlife to add vocals to her previously solo version of Phil Collins' Against All Odds (recorded for her Rainbow album) has paid big dividends for the singer, as the single becomes only her second UK number one. The first, in 1994, was also a cover of a song written by British writers, namely Without You, penned by Pete Ham and Tom Evans of Badfinger, but best known in Nilsson's 1972 chart-topping version.

Against All Odds belatedly becomes only the second Phil Collins composition to reach number one, following Easy Lover, which Collins and Philip Bailey took to the top in 1985. It is also the fifth cover version of a former number two song to reach number one this year, following I Have A Dream (originally Abba, number one

SINGLE FACTFILE

Westlife's collaboration with Mariah Carey covering Phil Collins' Against All Odds hit brings Mariah her second number one but allows Westlife to equal the Spice Girls' record of topping the chart with their first six singles. Although Against All Odds brings together two major chart acts, its sales were a less than dynamic 112,000, only the 16th highest tally for a number one hit this year. That said, it is Westlife's second highest first week tally. The group have a knack for debuting at number one with lower than average sales. Their introductory hit Say It Again's first week sales were 102,000, while If I Let You Go returned 90,000, Flying Without Wings glided to 92,000, I Have A Dream/Seasons In The Sun made the most of its December release with 213,000 and their most recent hit, Fool Again, managed a little under 83,000 in April.

for Westlife), American Pie (Don McLean/Madonna), You See The Trouble With Me (Barry White/Black Legend) and Take On Me (A-Ha/A1)

There are six new entries to the Top 10 for the third straight week, with obvious consequences for those who previously inhabited the upper echelon. In fact, six of the top seven this week are newcomers, but none of the others could provide decent competition for Mariah Carey and Westlife, with Against All Odds enjoying a 40% margin over the new number two, Kernkraft 400 by Zombie Nation. The latter record was a number 13 hit in the act's native Germany last year but has since become a major hit in several other European countries having emerged as a major summer hit in Ibiza. It reached number 61 on Dutch import last month, and would have gone higher but for the fact that other imports from other parts of Europe were simultaneously available, also reaching 102 and 141, while another import which exceeded the maximum playing time allowed for singles was uncharted but sold over 6,000 copies.

Billie Piper registers her sixth consecutive top five hit and her first success as an adult, debuting at number four two days after her 18th birthday with Something Deep Inside. It is her least successful single to date, however, and its first week sales of just over 38,000 are significantly down on her last single, Day & Night, which debuted at number one in May with a first week tally of 104,000.

A printers' error resulted in the charts for the last two weeks being curtailed at number 74. For completists, the records at number 75 were I Can Only Disappoint U by Mansun (16 Sept) and It Feels So Good by Sonique (23 Sept). In addition, a computer error means we are unable to publish this week's company market shares for singles, albums and compilations.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

30 SEPTEMBER 2000

by ALAN JONES

Although it didn't reach the heights scaled this year by albums from Oasis, Craig David, Robbie Williams and Ronan Keating, Madonna's Music sold a hefty 152,000 copies last week to debut at number one and give the 42-year-old superstar her seventh number one album. That is a record for a woman, three ahead of runner-up Celine Dion and four ahead of Kate Bush, Barbra Streisand and Diana Ross.

With Sky the longest-running current singles hit in the Top 10 – even after just three weeks in the chart – Sonique has proved there's more to her than just It Feels So Good. As a result, her album Hear My Cry reaches a new peak for the second week in a row – and in some style. The album has been on the chart for 12 weeks so far, and clicked into gear last week when it jumped 27-14. This week it makes the Top 10 for the

ALBUMS FACTFILE

It's a fairly modest affair with 11 tracks – only nine of them previously unreleased – but Madonna's Music made a big impression last week, selling a little under 152,000 copies to debut at number one. Music is Madonna's seventh number one album following Like A Virgin (1984), True Blue (1986), Like A Prayer (1989), The Immaculate Collection (1990), Evita (1997) and Ray Of Light (1998). Its first week sales were 12,000 up on the latter album, which has sold nearly 1,450,000 copies since its release, and which gains a significant uplift from the release of Music, moving 58-40 this week. More spectacularly, The Immaculate Collection soars 30-8. It has now sold about 3m copies, including nearly 15,000 last week, when its surge was powered by Woolworth's, where it was priced at £4.99 when bought with Music.

first time, exploding 14-6, with a 54% increase in sales week-on-week. Total sales to date are about 75,000. Another female vocal talent who comes within an ace of equalling her highest chart position is Lene Marlin. The young Norwegian reached number six with her debut hit Sitting Down Here in March. Her follow-up Unforgivable Sinner didn't arrive until six months later but its recent number 13 success was accompanied by considerable airplay, with the record becoming one of the 10% of hits that peak higher on the airplay chart, reaching number six there a fortnight ago. This has had an invigorating effect on the Playing My Game album from which both singles are taken. The album jumps 34-19 this week, coming to rest one place below its April peak. Three years to the week since her last album Homogenic debuted at number four, Bjork returns with Selma Songs. But despite being the soundtrack to the highly-rated film Dancer In The Dark – in which she makes her acting debut – and being graced by her Thom Yorke (Radiohead) duet I've Seen It All, the album is struggling, making its debut at number 34, with fewer than 6,000 buyers.

Completing an all-female album chart commentary this week, congratulations to Carole King, whose Natural Woman – The Very Best Of debuts at number 31 this week. King's celebrated 1971 album Tapestry reached number four but she has only had two other chart albums as a singles artist, so it is a pleasant surprise to see Natural Woman sell so well. King's composition Corazon (not on the album) is the new Titan single, out today.

COMPILATIONS

Kiss Ibiza 2000 is the number one compilation for the second straight week, and although its sales are down by more than 15% to just over 24,500, it enjoys an easier victory over runner-up The Ibiza Album – Summer 2000 in an unchanged top four where Fresh Hits – Volume 2 and Now That's What I Call Music! 46 are also static. Kiss Ibiza 2000 is a 39 track double album running over 2 hours, with tracks unmixed but separated by a fraction of a second. Among its biggest attractions are Modjo's Lady (Hear Me Tonight), Woman Trouble by Artful Dodger and Robbie Craig featuring Craig David, You See The Trouble With Me by Black Legend and Element Four's Big Brother UK TV Theme.

Of four new entries to the Top 10, two celebrate mutations of dance music, and two are oldies compilations. Warner.esp's Hard House

Nation leads the debuts at number five (15,500 sales), while Virgin/EMI's The Best Garage Anthems Ever follows at number eight with 11,000 sales. Telstar TV's self-explanatory The Cool Sound Of The 70s is in at nine, with 10,300 sales, just 500 more than Virgin/EMI's Young Guns Go For It, the BBC2-linked compilation focusing on music of the eighties.

Talking of Big Brother, the double 'soundtrack' to the Channel 4 success (although the Element Four track is the only one featured prominently in the programme) continues to sink slowly following the end of the series. It slips 19-24 this week, with sales of nearly 3,000 lifting its overall tally to 21,000. With the Big Brother single selling more than 120,000 copies in the last four weeks, the fledgling Channel 4 label.
