THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

It's only November, and we've had 40 number one single already this year. Independent Women by Destiny's Child sold more than 109,000 copies last week to become the latest, taking over from LeAnn Rimes' Can't Fight The Moonlight which declined by a modest 19% to fall to number two, after selling a further 92,000 copies. It's the first time we've had consecutive number ones by US acts since January/February 1999.

Destiny's Child's simultaneous number one in America on Billboard's Hot 100 make them the first act to top both the charts since Elton John's Candle In The Wind/Something About The Way You Look Tonight did likewise in October 1997. And, with the Beatles' 1 topping the album charts here and in America, it's the first dual number one single and album on both sides of the Atlantic for more than 17 years. The last time it happened (March 1983), was when Michael Jackson had both the number one single here and there with Billie Jean, and the number one album with Thriller. Destiny's Child's UK triumph means that Destiny's Child this week become the first American all-girl group to have a number one single in the UK since the Bangles in 1989 with Eternal Flame. Having reached number three with Say My Name in April and number five with Jumpin' Jumpin' in August, they secure their first chart-topper with Independent Women (Part 1). It's the second consecutive number one from a film (Charlie's Angels), having dethroned

LeAnn Rimes' Can't Fight The Moonlight (Coyote Ugly). It's the second time this year we've had consecutive movie songs at number one, the first time being when Madonna's American Pie (The Next Best Thing) topped All Saints' Pure Shores (The Beach). The last time this happened was in 1991 when Color Me Badd's I Wanna Sex You Up (from New Jack City) replaced Cher's Shoop Shoop Song (Mermaids).

with Walking Away, while Keating is in at number six with The Way You Make Me Feel. All three of David's hits to date were written by the star with Artful Dodger's Mark Hill, who also produced the tracks. With Artful Dodger's own Please Don't Turn Me On dipping 4.9, Hill helped to write and produce two songs on this week's Top 10, and has now been responsible for writing six and producing seven top six hits since last December, his production tally including all the Artful Dodger and Craig David hits, while his writing credits include the same tracks minus Movin' Too Fast.

This week sees much less impressive boy band debuts than A1, Westlife and The Backstreet Boys, one, two and four entries a fortnight ago. All three - N Sync (21 with This I Promise You), PointBreak (24 with What About Us) and 98 Degrees (61 with Give Me Just One Night) did better with their last singles, and have had minimal radio support for their latest singles.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

by ALAN JONES

Sales of artist albums increased for the fifth frame in a row last week, rising to a year's best tally of more than 3m. The Beatles' 1 became the first album to sell more than a quarter of a million copies two weeks in 2000, while the market was further stimulated by the simultaneous arrival of seven new debuts inside the Top 40.

The highest debut of the week comes from Enya, whose A Day Without Rain – her first album of new material for five years – sold more than 55,000 to land at number five, exactly equalling the position and sales of her 1995 effort The Memory Of Trees. In the pre-Christmas market, it's not always so easy to discern a success. For instance, The Wu-Tang Clan's number 19 debut with The W looks disappointing when compared to the number one debut of their last album, 1997's Wu-Tang Forever. The reality is, however, that The Wu-tang Clan are a fanbase act who sold just 26,048 copies of Wu-Tang Forever on its first week in the chart, while The W sold 33,612 copies last week – an increase of 29%.

The Spice Girls' 1996 debut album Spice was in the Top 10 for its first 42 weeks on Another excellent week for the Beatles' 1, which is again the runaway chart champ, having sold a further 253,500 copies. After just 13 days on release, 1 has sold nearly 573,000 copies, enough for it to rank, even at this early stage, as the 17th biggest selling album of the year, while the Beatles have now sold more albums in 2000 than all but four other artists, these being Eminem, Moby, Robbie Williams and the Corrs.

The way 1 is selling it should certainly have sold a million copies by the end of the year, and the Beatles could be the year's biggest selling act for the first time since 1964. Meantime, the album – the Beatles 15th number one – brings the group's total weeks at number one to 167, more than three times as many as their nearest challengers Abba.

Their span of number one albums now exceeds 37 years – a record.

release, while their 1997 follow-up Spiceworld was in the Top 10 for 11 weeks.

Their third album, Forever, spent just one week in the upper echelon, and has progressed 2-16-32, with sales of about 127,000 to date.

Westlife are clearly the boy band to beat on both the singles and albums chart, the battle between A1 and The Backstreet Boys for runners-up slot is getting tough. The Backstreet Boys have had 10 consecutive Top 10 singles, while A1 have reached the Top 10 with each of their six singles to date. A1 have topped the chart with each of their last two, while the Backstreet Boys have peaked at eight and four. Despite the appearance that A1 have got the upper hand, the head-to-head clash between their new albums has resulted in a small victory for the Backstreet Boys, whose Black & Blue debuts at number 13 with sales of 43,231 – one place and 1,650 sales ahead of A1's The A List. A1 are still very much on the rise, however the Backstreet Boys' two previous albums both reached number two, while A1's only previous effort Here We Come reached number 20.

COMPILATIONS

Aterrific increase of 53% in sales of compilations in one week can mean only one thing – the new Now! album is here. Debuting at number one with sales of nearly 245,000, Now That's What I Call Music! 47, to give it its full title, single-handedly accounted for more than a quarter of the compilation market last week. It outsold the number two album – Cream Anthems 2001 – by a margin of seven to one, and sold more copies than the rest of the Top 10 put together. One thing it didn't manage to do, however, was to match the enormous 278,000 opening total registered by Now! 44 in the equivalent week of 1999. It did, though, far exceed the openings of 1998's Now! 41 (191,000), 1997's Now! 38 (152,000) and all previous Christmas instalments in the series. One of the reasons it didn't beat Now! 44's extraordinary sale was that it was competing for once a year record buyers' cash with the Beatles 1 – a battle it lost narrowly, with the Beatles album selling nearly 9,000 more copies last week.

Among the 42 tracks on Now! 47 are 11 number ones plus long-running, high-selling hits like I'm Outta Love by Anastacia, the Architects' Body Groove and the True Steppers/Dane Bowers/Victoria Beckham single Out Of Your Mind. Unusually, Now! 47 also includes a non-hit, specifically the B. Boyz' cover of the Baha Men's Who Let The Dogs Out. Whether or not this marks a new way of including tracks which can't be cleared for inclusion in their hit versions remains to be seen, although its inclusion is more likely to mar the brand's image.
