THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

17 FEBRUARY 2001

by ALAN JONES

The rock revival is on. Although Atomic Kitten retain pole position on the singles chart, registering a rare 23% increase in sales of Whole Again to fight off a determined challenge from Wheatus, the remainder of the Top Five is filled by US rock records. Oddly enough, none of them has fared well in their homeland, even though rock is still a major chart force there. The Wheatus single did not even make the Billboard US Hot 100, peaking at number 24 on the bubbling under chart last autumn, while their self-titled album subsequently peaked at number 76. Similarly, Papa Roach's Last Resort debuts at number three here, but reached only number 57 in the US; Limp Bizkit's former number one Rollin' peaked at number 65 Stateside; and the Fun Lovin' Criminals' Loco looks like making a no-show. By contrast with these US phenomena, the hottest new homegrown rock act, Starsailor, have to settle for a disappointing number 18 debut for their first single, Fever. Loco is the Fun Lovin' Criminals' ninth hit,

SINGLE FACTFILE

New York trio Wheatus' debut single Teenage Dirtbag was unable to maintain its midweek lead over Atomic Kitten's Whole Again but managed to sell a very impressive 81,000 units last week to debut at number two. Written by the group's vocalist Brendan Brown, Teenage Dirtbag has had only limited support from radio (it moves 82-42 on the airplay chart but received only three plays on Radio One) but topped The Box's chart and has also been getting support from both MTV and VH1. Also featured in the opening credits to the movie Loser which opened at the cinema last weekend, it should now get massively increased support from radio too, which, in turn, should slow its sales decline significantly. Teenage Dirtbag mixes pop, rock and punk influences with a bit of scratching for good measure, and only blows its cool by namechecking Iron Maiden three times.

but their first to reach the Top 10 and is taken from their forthcoming album of the same name. Their previous biggest hit was Scooby

Snacks/I'm Not In Love, which reached number 12 in 1997. The remarkable Dancing In The Moonlight by Toploader enters the Top 10 for the first time in its 13-week chart career. The track, which debuted at number 11 in November and dipped to number 23 last month, has moved 21-17-13-8 in the past three weeks as airplay has improved. An even more unexpected climber is Westlife's recent number two hit What Makes A Man, which has jumped 38-29-17 in the past fortnight.

It Wasn't Me by Shaggy is not scheduled for release until February 26 but a flood of imports result in the track making a premature debut at number 31. It thus equals the highest position claimed by an import in the past decade, matching the pre-release peak of Lou Bega's Mambo No. 5 in 1999.

● The mix of Whole Again on the Atomic Kitten album Right Now is the single mix, contrary to what was stated here last week, and Incentive is a label owned by Nick Halkes and operated in association with the Ministry Of Sound, rather than being just a MOS imprint. Apologies to all concerned.

by ALAN JONES

Janet McDonald was the only British female solo artist to have a number one album in 1999. Gabrielle was the only one in 2000, and in 2001 it is Dido who paves the way for homegrown girls, topping the chart for the second straight week with her debut album No Angel, which managed to sell nearly 79,000 units last week, upping its weekly tally by nearly 500. It is very unusual for an album to sell so many copies in a week in February - no album has sold more in this month in the past five years, and this time last year Gabrielle was top for the first time with Rise selling 57,000. Dido's album has now sold more than 330,000 units, and is well ahead of the pack as the biggest-selling album of 2001, with 224,000 of those sales occurring this year.

Barry White's The Collection was the most obvious beneficiary of advertising aimed at persuading punters to buy records as Valentine's Day gifts last year, with the album catapulting 22-6 in the last chart before the day. The success of White and a few other year, with no particular one quite so dominant. The White album surges again, moving 40-24 with a week-on-week increase of 71%, but two

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Female solo artists occupy the top two places in the album chart with debut albums, and both have unusual but real names. Dido (Armstrong) leads the way with No Angel for the second straight week, while Anastacia (Newkirk) moves into second place with Not That Kind. Anastacia's success is the more remarkable since she has had very limited success back home (I'm Outta Love, her debut single, peaked at number 92 in the US Hot 100 last year, since which she has not charted) and has had only two UK singles, peaking at number 11 with I'm Outta Love and at number 11 with Not That Kind. Her album sold more than 38,000 units last week, to take its overall tally to 157,000, and is emulating its success in Europe, where it was the 19th biggest-selling album of 2000 - a feat due largely to I'm Outta Love's status as the fourth biggest hit of the year in Europe.

other heavily-promoted albums fare even better. Roy Orbison's Love Songs - a new Virgin compilation featuring both original and remakes of hits by the Big O - sprints 19-11 with a 97% spurt, while Andrea Bocelli's Romanza returns to the chart for the first time since its 1997 release. A number six success at the time, Romanza managed to sell more than 10,500 units last week, enough for it to re-enter the chart at number 20.

After making a belated and impressive Top 75 debut last week at number 33, Eva Cassidy's Songbird continues to make excellent progress. The album sold nearly 11,000 units last week, and jumps to number 19, representing a triumph for Brighton indie Hot Records, which has the UK license for the record and distributes it itself.

Finally, congratulations to Spooks, whose debut album S.I.O.S.O.S. Vol. 1 debuts this week at number 29 hot on the heels of their debut hit single Things I've Seen, which reached number six last month.

COMPILATIONS

Ministry Of Sound has carved itself quite a niche with numerous number ones in the compilation chart via up tempo dance compilations but it cools things down for the first time with The Chill Out Session, and is rewarded with yet another number one, after selling nearly 31,000 units of the album last week. Featuring less-than-frenetic mixes of favourites like Barber's Adagio For Strings by William Orbit and Heart Of Asia by Watergate, it also includes tracks by artists who are not normally associated with dance compilations - Badly Drawn Boy (The Shining) and Wo'ld Party (Is It Too Late?) among them. Its sales surprisingly overshadow Passion, the prime contender amongst a slew of albums aimed at the Valentine's Day audience. Passion moves 8-2 and sold 28,000 units last week, which is considerably fewer than the 51,000 sales which won pole position for

The Love Songs Album at this time last year, never mind the spectacular 87,000 tally of the similarly-titled Love Songs the previous year. The problem seems to be that everyone has caught on to what used to be mostly a Universal TV idea (it was behind Love Songs and superbly performing compilations by Barry White and Marvin Gaye) and sales are now spread more thinly among many titles, including this week's top three budget compilations, Love Power Vol. 2, Love Hurts and Classics For Lovers. In the full-price compilation sector, other obvious beneficiaries of the Valentine's Day effect are Steve Wright's Sunday Love Songs (15-9), The New Love Album (13-11), Love Unlimited (new at number 14), For You (new at number 20), A French Affair (new at number 21), Being With You (new at number 23) and The All Time Greatest Love Songs (37-26).
