THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

17 MARCH 2001

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Uptempo boys for the first time in their careers with Uptown Girl, after eight ballads in a row, Westlife return to their chart-topping ways this week. After reaching number one with their first seven singles, they had to settle for number two last time out, with What Makes A Man unable to match Bob The Builder's Can We Fix It? This was despite the fact that What Makes A Man sold more copies on its first week (231,000) in the shops than any previous Westlife single. Uptown Girl exceeds even that with some comfort, selling over 292,000 last week. The first week tallies of the previous seven Westlife singles – all good enough to earn number one debuts, remember – were 102,000 (Say It Again), 90,000 (If I Let You Go), 92,000 (Flying Without Wings), 213,000 (I Have A Dream/Seasons In The Sun), 83,000 (Fool Again) and 112,000 (both Against All Odds and My Love). With eight number one and a number two to their credit, Westlife still need to top the chart with their

MARKET REPORT

SINGLE FACTFILE

Topping the charts for the eighth time in nine releases, Westlife sold more than 292,000 copies of their Comic Relief single Uptown Girl last week. A remake of the 1983 Billy Joel number one, it's the 24th song to top the chart in two versions (25th if we count Puff Daddy's I'll Be Missing You as an alternate version of the Police hit Every Breath You Take) and the sixth number one to aid Comic Relief, following Cliff Richard &

The Young Ones' Living Doll (1986), The Stunk by Hale & Pace (1991), Love Can Build A Bridge by Cher, Chrisale Hynde, Neneh Cherry & Eric Clapton (1995), Mama/Who Do You Think You Are by the Spice Girls (1997) and When The Going Gets Tough by Boyzone (1999). It is the first remake of a former number one to reach the top since December 1999, when Westlife also topped with Terry Jacks' Seasons In The Sun.

next single to equal the best ever sequence for an act's first 10 singles – the Spice Girls having registered nine number ones and a number two thus far. It is still less than two years since Westlife first charted, Say It Again entering the chart dated 1 May 1999.

Garage's two most consistent hitmakers went head-to-head this week, and the result was a narrow victory for Artful Dodger, whose Think About Me debuts at number 11 with sales of 25,000, a place and 1,000 sales ahead of DJ Luck & MC Neat's Piano Loco. For both acts, however, it looks like the end of their 100% Top 10 records. Artful Dodger's four previous singles and three by DJ Luck & MC Neat reached the upper echelon.

Although they are all now in their 50s, Aerosmith are anything but jaded, despite their current single bearing that title. Hitmakers in their native America since Dream On in 1973, and chart fixtures here since 1987, Aerosmith's last three singles have been the biggest hits of their career, with the number four power ballad I Don't Want To Miss A Thing being followed by a number 13 posting for a reissue of Pink, which is equalled this week by Jaded – which, for extra sales power, includes I Don't Want To Miss A Thing as a bonus track.

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Although he came away from the Brits without an award, having been nominated for his Lost Songs 95-98 album, David Gray saw sales of said album and White Ladder – which was ineligible since it was first released prior to the eligibility period – increase considerably immediately after, and they continue to gain ground, with Lost Songs jumping 14-12 and White Ladder advancing 7-4 this week. The latter album is particularly buoyant, following up an 80% hike last week with a further increase of 17%. White Ladder has been on an upwards trajectory for the last six weeks, with exposure for the new single This Year's Love – which debuts at number 20 this week – also helping it.

A fixture of the chart since it made its belated debut last May, the album topped 1.2m sales last week – a fine total, given the fact it has yet to reach number one.

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Topping the chart for the sixth straight week – a new record for an album by a British female solo artist – No Angel by Dido sold a further 64,000 copies last week. But after four consecutive weeks in which it sold more than twice as many copies as any other album, its lead has been reduced to a still impressive 63% by Eva Cassidy's Songbird. Cassidy's album has moved 3-10-2 in the last fortnight, an erratic sequence which owes more to varying demand for Brits winners than to any slump in its own sales. In fact, when making that seven point decline, sales of Songbird were down just 321, or 1%. The album reaches a new peak in both its sales and position in the current chart, with nearly 40,000 copies being sold last week, to take its cumulative sales past the 230,000 mark.

The BBC came to the aid of Lionel Richie in some style last week. The Motown legend, now signed to Island, was the subject of a Top Of The Pops 2 special, and also jumps to the head of Radio 2's most-played list, with his current single Tender

Heart getting 20 plays on the station last week. As a result, his Renaissance album soars 74-15, equaling the position it reached on its debut last October. Sales of Renaissance nearly quadrupled week-on-week to over 13,000, though the album is still well shy of 100,000 sales overall.

Nine months after the release of his Riding With The King collaboration with B.B. King, Eric Clapton returns with Reptile, a collection of new songs and covers. It's Clapton's first new album of solo material since 1998's Pilgrim, and debuts one notch below that album's peak, at number seven after selling to more than 20,000 of the guitar God's disciples last week.

With Always Come Back To Your Love – the third single from Samantha Mumba's Gotta Tell You album – showing its legs by holding at number seven on its third week in the chart, the previously underperforming album is beginning to shape up. Moving 59-27-21 in the last fortnight, it has now equalled the highest chart position of its career to date. It has sold 80,000 copies since its release last November.

COMPILATIONS

The first compilation to sell more than 200,000 copies this year, The Chillout Session is number one for the fifth straight week, after selling a further 39,000 copies. The album – which includes more subdued versions of hits like American Dream by Jakatta and Amber by Sexual as well as obvious contenders like Demons by Fatboy Slim featuring Macy Gray – has shown impressive staying power, the length of its stay at number one being rivalled in the last couple of years only by releases in the Now! series of albums. Featuring 26 tracks on a 2CD set, its sales dipped just 6% last week, and is clearly going to sell a lot more copies before it fades away.

The new number two album – Kiss Smooth Grooves 2001 – is another mellow offering, which managed to sell nearly 30,000 copies last week, which means it is already over 40% of the way to equalling the 71,000 sales of last year's equivalent, Kiss Smooth Grooves 2000. That album didn't hit the streets until May, and peaked at number three on the compilation chart with first week sales of just 18,000. Among the tracks on Kiss Smooth Grooves 2001 are Shaggy's It Wasn't Me, Don't Think I'm Not by Kandi, and 35 other R&B/hip hop hits.

Pure Garage IV completes the top three. The WSM set is the latest release in the biggest selling garage series to date, and sold nearly 25,000 copies last week. Its release caused major downturns in the popularity of all other current garage compilations, with the biggest loser being the Ministry Of Sound's Real Garage, which slides 7-14.
