CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

SINGLE FACTFILE

Geri Halliwell debuts emphatically at number one with It's Raining Men, which sold more copies last week - 155,000 - than any of her previous four solo singles did on their first week in the shops. Her introductory solo single - and the only one not to reach number one - enjoyed her previous best first week tally of 142,000 when it debuted at number two behind Boyzone's You Needed Me. Of the others, Mi Chico Latino opened with 132,000, Lift Me Up with 139,000 and Bag It Up with 106,000. Halliwell also appeared on the first seven Spice Girls number ones, and her tally of 11 number ones equals the highest for any female, set by former colleague Melanie C, who has topped the chart twice solo and nine times as a Spice Girl. Halliwell is only the second artist to have more than three number ones solo and as a group member, emulating Sir Paul McCartney.

In 1984, It's Raining Men by the Weather Girls was denied the number one slot only by Lioriel Richie's Hello. It is too late for the original but Geri Halliwell's cover has a surprisingly easy victory at the top of the chart this week, selling 35,000 copies more than runners-up S Club 7's Don't Stop Movin'.

The original It's Raining Men - which was reissued on Monday and is currently number 81 - was recorded by heavyweight talents Martha Wash and Izora Redman, who were large enough to be known as Two Tons O' Fun in a previous existence as back-up singers for Sylvester. The song, by the by, was written by Paul Jabara and Paul Schaffer, the latter being the Canadian sidekick of David Letterman.

Halliwell's version of the song is produced by Steve Lipson, who performed the same duty on the S Club 7 single and thus becomes the first producer to register consecutive number ones since William Orbit topped via All Saints and Madonna in March of last year.

REM had back-to-back Top 10 singles for the first time in their lengthy career when they reached number three with The Great Beyond last year. They stretch that sequence to three in a row, and increase their total number of hits to 28 with Imitation Of Life, which debuts at number six this week. It is the first single from their new album Reveal.

With the 46th Eurovision Song Contest scheduled for Copenhagen this Saturday, the chart is taking on a Eurovision look, with last year's runner-up, Aisou from Russia, making her UK chart debut at number 27 courtesy of Before You Love Me, while the UK's representative at this year's competition, Lindsay Dracas, debuts at number 32 with No Dream Impossible. According to the bookies, Lindsay winning is indeed an impossible dream but even if it does not, the song has already charted higher than last year's UK representative, Don't Play That Song Again, which reached number 34 for Nicki French. Continuing the Eurovision theme, Luke Galliano debuts at number 42 with To Die For, one of the songs beaten to the UK nomination by No Dream Impossible.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

12 MAY 2001

by ALAN JONES

ALBUMS FACTFILE

After consecutive number one singles with Independent Women and Survivor, Destiny's Child top the album chart for the first time in their career this week, with their third album, Survivor, making an emphatic debut in pole position after selling nearly 118,000 copies last week. That is three times as many copies as No Angel by Dido sold to rebound to number two. Survivor's predecessor, The Writing's On The Wall, peaked at number 10 but still holds the record for most sales in a week by a Destiny's Child album, selling nearly 119,000 copies the week before Christmas 2000 when it was number 14. So far, The Writing's On The Wall has sold 927,000 copies, while their self-titled debut – which has never charted higher than number 45 – has sold just 53,000 copies. Both sold 3,083 copies last week and appear in the chart at 65 and 64 respectively.

Destiny's Child become only the second all female American group to top the UK albums chart in its 43-year history this week – and the first to do so with a regular album release, as opposed to a hits collection. Their Survivor album tops the chart some 24 years after Diana Ross & the Supremes' 20 Golden Greats reached pole position, and 33 years after the same group's previous number one, Greatest Hits. No other all female American group has ever reached number one, with contenders like the Bangladeshi reaching number three and TLC getting to number four.

Although It Wasn't Me extends its Top 10 residency to 10 weeks, the exposure given to Shaggy's follow-up Angel has increasingly channelled record buyers' attention to his album Hot Shot in the last few weeks. The album explodes 11-4 this week, making the Top 10 for the first time on its 14th appearance in the chart. Hot Shot sold more than 25,000 copies last week, a 60% increase week-on-week. Its total sales now exceed 150,000. Meanwhile, Gabrielle's former chart-topper Rise rockets 81-5 after the release of a second enhanced edition, which accounted for the lion's share of the record's 24,000 sales last week. Total sales for the album now exceed 930,000.

Stocked in several large multiples for the first time last week, Eva Cassidy's Over The Rainbow single sprints to its highest position on the singles chart, as it moves 93-45. Coincidence or not, Cassidy's Songbird album completes a 10-week stay in the Top 10 by sliding 7-13.

All three of the albums which made top five debuts last week suffer steep declines with no evidence yet of staying power. Ash's Free All Angels slides 1-7 with sales down 47%; Janet Jackson's All For You drops 2-10 with a 50% dip; and Feeder's Echo Park suffers a 57% fall-off and dives 5-18 as a result.

Linkin Park's Hybrid Theory was released seven months ago but enjoyed its highest sales yet last week, with nearly 19,000 buyers pushing it 10-9 on the chart. It is now the highest ranking of several nu rock offerings in the chart, pulling ahead of albums by Limp Bizkit and Papa Roach.

COMPILATIONS

After just three weeks at number one, Now That's What I Call Music! 48 has been knocked off the top of the compilations chart. Since the compilation chart was introduced in 1989, when Now! 13 was current, no Now! album has spent less time at number one. The album's demise comes despite extremely buoyant sales which saw it sell a further 68,000 copies last week to take its four week tally to 620,000. That is far and away the highest tally for a spring Now! release at this stage of its life, being nearly 37% ahead of the previous record pace set by Now! 45 in 1999. The other spring Now! albums in the last five years and their tallies at this stage: Now! 36 (1997 – 408,000), Now! 39 (1998 – 414,000), Now! 45 (2000 – 454,000). The reason for Now! 48's decline is, of course, the Bridget Jones's Diary (OST), which sold a best yet total of 104,400 last week having limbered up with tallies of 86,000 on its week of release and 92,400 the following week. For it to increase sales again even though the film is obviously declining from its record box office opening, and despite the fact that the best known track on the album – Geri Halliwell's recording of It's Raining Men – is now the number one single is a remarkable achievement. The album is already the third highest selling compilation of the year, its 283,000 total being inferior only to Now! 48 (as above) and The Chillout Session (395,000). Among the lesser known acts on the album are Aaron Soul, Jamie O'Neal, Rosey and Shelby Lynne, all of whom should see considerable benefits from inclusion.
