CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Gerri Halliwell's first three solo number ones – Mi Chico Latino, Lift Me Up and Bag It Up – each spent just one week in pole position but It's Raining Men breaks new ground for the former Spice Girl by completing its second week at the top this week. Halliwell is the first British female to have four number one solo hits and she is the first female solo artist of any nationality to have four consecutive number ones. It's Raining

Men sold more than 78,000 copies last week to bring Halliwell's overall sales since going solo to more than 1.5m. Mi Chico Latino sold 372,000, Lift Me Up sold 337,000, Look At Me (a number two hit) sold 317,000, Bag It Up sold 255,000 and – In just two weeks – It's Raining Men has sold 233,000. Incidentally, every one of Halliwell's five hits to date has a three word title – a unique occurrence.

With the new school term under way and hot weather in some regions encouraging outdoor pursuits, record shops saw considerably reduced traffic last week, with album sales tumbling 22% and singles sales diving by 28%. The top two remain as the previous week, however, with Gerri Halliwell's It's Raining Men retaining pole position despite its sales halving week-on-week to a little over 78,000. Despite this, it has a comfortable 11% lead over S Club 7's Don't Stop Movin', which ignores its own title by remaining stationary at number two. Nelly's Ride Wit Me is a distant third and the week's highest new entry with sales of just under 40,000.

Declining 28%, exactly in line with the market, but retaining 32nd place in the chart, Britain's Eurovision entry No Dream Impossible by Lindsay is unlikely to climb any higher following its dismal showing in the 46th Grand Prix, held in Copenhagen last Saturday (12th). The only UK entry to fare worse was Nicki French's Don't Play That Song Again, which finished 16th last year. Both records returned a paltry 28 points from the other 22 juries, and Lindsay's single was judged no better than the seventh best song in the competition by any nation's voters. By contrast, Estonia's Tanel Padar and Dave Benton registered the elusive 'douze points' from no fewer than nine juries and duly won the competition with 198 points, 21 more than hosts/retiring champions Denmark who finished second. It is Estonia's first win in eight attempts, and Padar & Benton (the latter is actually from the Caribbean island of Aruba) are only the third male duo to win in Eurovision history, following Ireland's Paul Harrington and Charlie McGettigan in 1994, and last year's winners the Olsen Brothers.

The studio title track of Bon Jovi's upcoming live album One Wild Night debuts at number 10, making it the highest ranking rock track on the chart, and bringing the veterans their 14th Top 10 hit from an overall total of 29 hits. That is the second highest tally by an American group in the UK, trailing only the Beach Boys' total of 30. It puts Bon Jovi clear of REM, who joined them in second place only last week when Imitation Of Life became their 28th hit.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

19 MAY 2001

by ALAN JONES

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Sir Paul McCartney registers an unprecedented 46th Top 10 entry with his Wingspan - Hits And History album, which debuts this week at number five, with sales of more than 24,000. McCartney scored 25 Top 10 albums with The Beatles, most recently with the hits compilation 1, and has added a further 21 solo and with Wings. Wingspan is the first album to compile his post-Beatles work since All The Best which reached number two in 1987. The new album will likely improve on its number five position in a fortnight, as McCartney will be the subject of a 95 minute Channel 4 documentary, Wingspan, to be broadcast on Saturday (19th). It is six months now since the Beatles' 1 was released, and it has had a slow decline after an opening nine consecutive weeks in pole position. It reverses that decline by jumping 46-33 this week.

Notwithstanding a 55% decline in sales week-on-week, Destiny's Child's Survivor album enjoys a stayover at number one, its tally of 53,000 sales being 66% higher than runner-up Dido's No Angel. Meanwhile, Shaggy creeps into third place - his highest position yet - with Hot Shot continuing to benefit from airplay for the forthcoming single Angel and the ongoing popularity of the former number one It Wasn't Me.

Nelly registers his third hit single in six months with Ride Wit Me (featuring City Spud) debuting at number three with sales of nearly 40,000. He previously reached number seven with (Hot St) Country Grammar (first week sales - 28,000) and number 11 with EI (first week sales - 18,000). His album Country Grammar, which was released last September, has enjoyed strong increases in sales for each of the last five weeks as radio has got behind Ride Wit Me, and it has increased its spurt in the last fortnight, eclipsing its previous highest position of 48 by jumping 55-35-20. It sold nearly 9,000 copies last week, and has sold more than 84,000 in total.

Eddy Grant has one of the hottest tracks around with the remix of Electric Avenue, but its unavailability presently as a single has paid dividends for East West's rapidly released compilation The Greatest Hits, which is the highest new entry this week at number four and includes an edit of the track. Grant, who owns his own back catalogue, had previously climbed no higher than number seven, with 1982's Killer On The Rampage. Previous 'best of' compilations on K-Tel in 1984 (All The Hits) and Parlophone in 1989 (Walking On Sunshine) reached 23 and 20 respectively. Grant has licensed similar selections of tracks to several other labels including Sequel, Disky, Crimson, Music Club, EMI Gold and his own Ice label.

The gentle decline in sales of Coldplay's Parachutes in recent weeks has allowed Anastacia to move up to fourth in the year-to-date rankings with her debut album Not That Kind. Holding at number eight this week, it has sold 420,000 copies so far this year and 477,000 in total. In her native America, where it charted at number 176 a few weeks ago, it has sold just 37,000 copies.

COMPILATIONS

Number one at the British box office for four weeks, Bridget Jones's Diary's success continues to generate sales for its soundtrack album. It sold a further 80,000 copies last week to bring its four week tally to 336,000. Despite a 23% decline, it is now an impressive 75% ahead of runner-up Now That's What I Call Music! 48, and is the third biggest selling compilation and 11th biggest selling album of all so far this year. Its continued success is all the more impressive considering the two tracks which have so far generated most publicity - Geri Halliwell's It's Raining Men and Gabrielle's Out Of Reach - have been purchased in large quantities as singles, while the Gabrielle track has also been belatedly added to her Rise album creating a massive increase in its sales.

The two new entries to the chart both feature songs written by Burt Bacharach. The first of them, The Look Of Love features no fewer than 50, most of them with lyrics by Hal David. The album debuts strongly at number four, with more than 19,000 copies sold. Among the tracks on The Look Of Love is Magic Moments by Perry Como, who sadly died last weekend. By contrast, The Best Northern Soul All-Nighter Ever! features just one Bacharach composition among the staggering 60 which are crammed onto its 2CDs - Jimmy Radcliffe's Long After Tonight Is All Over. Radcliffe was a labelmate of Dionne Warwick at Scepter and thus got first refusal on several Bacharach songs although he is little known. He also features on The Look Of Love, singing, appropriately, There Goes The Forgotten Man.
