THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

9 JUNE 2001

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

With the half term holiday helping to ramp sales up by 17%, the singles market was buoyant last week.

Shaggy's Angel sold more than 178,000 copies, while DJ Pied Piper's Do You Really Like It?, in second place, shifted more than 115,000 copies. It's the first time the top two have both exceeded the 100,000 mark for four weeks.

Tippec by many to be their first number one, Sing by Travis failed to match those lofty expectations but still set a new benchmark for the Scottish group by debuting at number three. Travis are unique in chart history, having improved their peak position with each of their last seven singles. Since reaching number 38 with Happy in 1997, subsequent singles by the group have peaked at 16, 14, 13, 10, eight and five. Sing raises the bar yet again, and is, by some margin, their biggest first week sale. Its rally of 67,000 far outdistances their previous Top 10 hits Why Does It

SINGLE FACTFILE

Combining elements of Angel Of The Morning, originally recorded by Merrilee Rush, and The Joker by the Steve Miller Band, Shaggy's Angel sold more than 178,000 copies last week to make him the first artist to have two number ones in 2001. He previously topped the chart in March with It Wasn't Me, which sold 345,000 copies in its first week, a total it has subsequently built up to more than 1,120,000 to become the biggest seller of the year. Shaggy is the only reggae artist to have multiple number ones, having previously topped the chart with Oh Carolina in 1993 and Boombastic in 1995. Those two titles are the only hits out of nine that Shaggy has landed on the Top 40 on which he alone gets credit, the remainder being collaborations. Angel, for example, featuring the vocals of Rayvon, while It Wasn't Me is a showcase for Ricardo 'RikRok' Ducent.

Dividing music into genres is a tricky business but it is fair to say that however generous we are in interpreting it, there have never been so many hip hop/R&B acts in the Top 20 at the same time. There can be no dispute that Ludacris, OutKast, Sunshine Anderson, MOP, Mya, 3LW and Nelly are all R&B acts, while their is some justification for the inclusion of Lisa Roxanne, Jennifer Lopez, Gabrielle, and Shaggy in the category too, and maybe even Blue and Eddy Grant. All are in the Top 20 at present.

Six records in the Top 40 have been on the chart for 10 or more weeks, and all seem very reluctant to leave it. Teenage Dirtbag by Wheatos actually improves 25-22 on its 17th appearance, with its sales up 9% week-on-week, while Hear'Say's Pure & Simple dips 35-38 despite a 26% improvement on its 12th week.

Offspring's Want You Bad has slumped 67-34 ending its late revival. Incidentally, its recent rally was due to a heavily overstocked Asda reducing its price to 1p, not the 49p as reported by some less reliable sources.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS

by ALAN JONES

Shaggy becomes the first Jamaican and the first reggae artist simultaneously to top the singles and albums chart this week, with Angel debuting at number one on the album list. Hot Shot moves 2-1 on the singles chart while Angel sold more than 54,500 copies last week to take its cumulative sales to 318,000.

While Shaggy sings the praises of Angel at number one, Dido's No Angel climbs back to number two. It sold more than 48,000 copies last week, to become the first album to sell a million copies in 2001. In all, 12 albums topped the million mark last year, but No Angel wasn't one of them, selling just 106,000 copies. With a further 1,025,000 so far in 2001, its overall sales are 1,131,000. It is, by some distance, the biggest seller of the year, with Hear'Say's Popstars in second place with 651,000 sales. Hot Shot scampers 15-11 on the list, and should be well into the Top 10 next week.

Two weeks after dipping to number 134, its lowest position to date, Russell Watson's debut album The Voice explodes 108-25, with sales jumping by more than 500% week-on-week. The 28-year-old former lathe operator from Salford is the most celebrated new classical talent to emerge from Britain since

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Hot on the heels of their third consecutive Top 10 single Up Middle Finger, Oxide & Neutrino's debut album Execute lands at number 11 after selling nearly 21,000 copies last week. Containing their number one hit Bound 4 Da Reload (Casualty) and the follow-up No Good 4 Me as well as Up Middle Finger, it is the highest charting UK garage album yet - Craig David's R&B-flavoured Born To Do It excepted. Despite their even more impressive singles chart record, Artful Dodger's debut album It's All About The Stragglers has never climbed any higher than number 24, and MJ Cole's Mercury Award-nominated Sincere peaked at 14. Despite the 710,000-selling Sweet Like Chocolate (the biggest hit single from a garage act) Shanks & Bigfoot's album Swings & Roundabouts fell short of the Top 200, and has sold fewer than 2,000 copies.

Nigel Kennedy, and his album received two major boosts in the week. Watson starred in a 50 minute prime time showcase - Russell Watson At Music Live - on BBC1 last Monday (28th May) and then won two Classical Brits for The Voice on Thursday. Decca labelmates Bond are also resurgent. The group's classical pedigree has been called into question but they opened the Classical Brits to acclaim with a couple of tracks from their Born album, which increased its sales by a factor of 27 to re-enter the chart this week at number 38. Watson's album has sold 574,000 copies to date, while Bond's is about to pass the 180,000 mark.

The name remains the same, but the Very Best Of The Eagles album which is this week's highest new entry at number five is a revamped, expanded and re-sleeved version of their 1994 album of the same title, which has sold more than 570,000 copies. The new incarnation of the album sold 30,000 copies last week.

COMPILATIONS

Number one for the fifth week in a row, with sales exceeding 50,000 for the seventh time succession, the soundtrack to Bridget Jones's Diary continues to sell at an impressive rate. Its cumulative sales of 553,000 are the second highest for a compilation this year, and also exceed the sales of all but three artist albums. It sold 54,487 copies last week - just 31 fewer than Shaggy's Hot Shot sold in topping the artist album chart. Its sales declined by a gentle 9% over the previous week. The only compilation to have sold more than copies this year - is Now That's What I Call Music! 48, which has sold 766,000 in total but which sold only half as many as Bridget Jones's Diary last week. Bridget certainly has a good chance of being in the top three compilations for the year - an area which the Now! series has entirely monopolised for the last three years.

With school out, last week was the ideal time for EMI/Virgin/Universal to release their Smash Hits Summer 2001 album, and it did not disappoint, racking up sales just short of 41,000 to earn a number two debut. It is, therefore, easily outperforming last year's equivalent. Smash Hits Summer 2000 was issued in late June and debuted at number three with a first week sale of 26,000, which is has so far increased to a little over 100,000.

Another indicator of the time of the year is the influx of Ibiza albums. There are four in the Top 20 this week, including two newcomers. Clubber's Guide To Ibiza - Summer 2001 debuts at number six, and I Love Ibiza debuts at number 10.
