CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

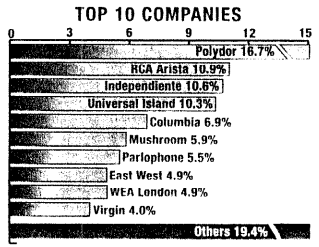

Just as Eminem was Dr Dre's protégé, D12 are Eminem's protégés. The five-man rap crew - produced by Dre with Eminem guesting - are as uncompromising as their mentors, and provide the highest-charting album yet from the "horrorcore" hip-hop sub-genre, debuting at number two with Devil's Night. The Baha Men, Michael Jackson, Britney Spears and Destiny's Child are among the chart rivals they attack on an album which includes the recent number 10 single Shit On You and Purple Pills, which has been sanitised as Purple Hills for upcoming single release. Eminem's involvement is clearly the key to its first-week sales of 58,000, which represent the highest introductory tally by any rap act's first album. It brings to five the number of albums on the Interscope label in the Top 50, the others being a trio of Limp Bizkit titles and 2Pac's Until The End Of Time.

Sales of Travis's The Invisible Band tumbled by 61% last week from just short of 200,000 to just over 78,000 - but the latter total was still enough for the album to enjoy a comfortable second week at number one despite the release of three diverse and extremely popular albums, which debut in convoy at two, three and four.

Detroit-based rappers D-12 lead the way, securing second place with their first album Devil's Night. The retro rock sound of Muse earns them a number three debut with Origin Of Symmetry, which sold more than 45,000 units last week. Their 1999 debut Showbiz had to settle for a number 29 peak but has managed to sell 175,000 units to date. Meanwhile, Faithless, who are the most established of the three, have to settle for the lowest debut, entering at number four with Outrospective, which therefore matches the position posted by its introductory single We Come 1 earlier this month. Their previous albums Reverence and Sunday 8PM peaked at 26 and 10 respectively, with sales of 220,000 and 170,000. Outrospective sold more than 43,000 units last week.

Its price slashed to £7.99 at Woolworths (a notional loss of £2.35 per copy, allowing for VAT). The Beatles' 1 has moved 52-39-23 on the album chart in the past fortnight, with sales rocketing by 186% as a result. The album is in its highest position for 17 weeks, and has increased its total sales to more than 2,126,000. Lionel Richie's Renaissance is also in resurgent mood, jumping 87-22 as a result of having his current single I Forgot added to it. It is the second time the album, which was released last autumn, has staged a comeback. It peaked at number 15 initially, and bounced 74-15-10-6 in March to reach a new peak after Richie was the subject of a TOTP2 special. Its latest surge is accompanied by a 316% increase in sales week-on-week. It has sold 245,000 units so far.

Stereophonics' album Just Enough Education To Perform declined 9-11 last week despite a week-on-week increase of 44% in its sales. This week it experiences the flipside of that unusual double, rebounding 11-9 even as its sales fall by 20% week-on-week. It sold its 400,000th copy today (Monday), and is the ninth biggest seller of the year.

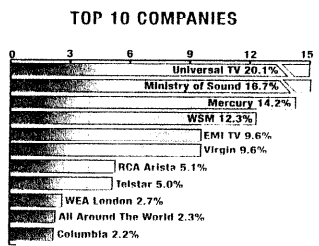

COMPILATIONS

The Chillout Session spent six weeks at number one earlier this year, precipitating a succession of imitators, none of which has thus far come close to emulating the Ministry Of Sound album, whose impressive tally of 437,000 sales places it third in the year-to-date chart behind Now That's What I Call Music! 48 (816,000 sales and still in the Top 10 this week, its 11th in the chart) and Bridget Jones's Diary (658,000 sales and top three for the 10th week in a row). The latest album to try to duplicate the success of The Chillout Session is its MoS follow-up, The Chillout Session 2, which moves 3-2 this week, failing by just 300 sales to take the number one slot. TV advertising for the album ("a laidback mix of blissful beats and chilled out house", according to its front cover) concentrates on 1 Monster's number 20 hit Daydream In Blue, although it contains substantially bigger hits like Thank You by Dido, Silence by Delerium & Sarah McLachlan and Roger Sanchez's upcoming monster Another Chance. It sold a little more than 32,000 units on its first week in the shops, and a further 29,000 last week, putting it nearly 20,000 sales behind the pace set by The Chillout Session in its first fortnight in the shops - though that album was issued in the post-Christmas void, and had little competition, while The Chillout Session 2 has many competitors.

The album that keeps The Chillout Session 2 off the top of the chart is Capital Gold Legends, which is top for the second straight week in spite of a 33% dip in sales. The album includes evergreen hits like Where Did Our Love Go by Diana Ross & The Supremes, Rock Your Baby by George McCrae and Eternal Flame by The Bangles.
