CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Singles sales were below the million mark last week for an unprecedented 10th week in a row but they reached their highest level in this spell with four new entries to the top five helping to spur them to 990,000 – an 8% increase over the previous seven days. The main contribution to that total came from Five.

Let's Dance is the first single from their upcoming album Kingsize, and sold nearly 85,000, beating off a challenge from Sophie Ellis-Bextor, whose debut solo single Take Me Home – essentially a remake of Cher's US number eight hit from 1979 with a new bridge penned by Ellis Bextor herself – enters at number two after selling 74,000 copies.

Surprisingly, although overall sales are weak So Solid Crew's 21 Seconds sold 70,000 copies in third place, the fourth highest sale for a record at number three so far this year, and the highest for 21 weeks.

After falling well short of the Top 10 with their last three singles, Jamiroquai return to Five register their 10th Top 10 hit, their 8th top five success and their third number one with Let's Dance, which enters the chart in pole position this week. They are only the second boy band to reach the Top 10 with their first 10 releases (Boyzone were the first) and have joined S Club 7 and Westlife in having a number one in each of the last three years, having first reached the summit with Keep On Movin' in November 1999, returning eight months later with Queen on a remake of We Will Rock You. Keep On Movin' sold more than 137,000 copies on its first week in the shops, and was the group's biggest hit, eventually selling 460,000 copies. We Will Rock You, by contrast, was lucky to reach number one, only getting there on a technicality (with sales of 78,000) as Ronan Keating's Life Is A Rollercoaster lost crucial sales because of an ineligible format.

alphabet's 12th letter, oddly enough the previous example, 10 years ago next month, was Roxette's number 21 hit Big L. The 'l' in question in both cases is that perennial subject of songs, love.

Austrian DJ Otzi's remake of Bruce Channel's 1962 number two hit Hey Baby is the latest single to chart on import. A massive hit in much of Europe it has moved 94.77.70.55 here in the last three weeks. 58% of its sales last week were from Northern Ireland, (massively beating the market average of 1.8%) spreading there from the Republic, where it has been number one.

Groove Armada have a bigger hit with each release. Their fourth chart success Superstylin' debuts at number 12 this week. It's the first single from their new album Goodbye Country (Hello Nightclub).

New Order have their first new hit in more than five years and the fifth highest charting single of their career with Crystal debuting at number eight.

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Narrowly missing out on its first Top 10 placing since its number nine debut in March, Nelly Furtado's debut album Whoa Nelly is enjoying a major resurgence in support, and after dipping to a low of number 156 has increased its sales and improved its position in each of the last eight weeks, moving 156-142-119-77-63-57-44-32-11. The improvement in fortunes of the album, which has sold 144,000 copies including more than 11,500 last week, started when Furtado's single Turn Off The Light - released today - started to get airplay. The single jumps 13-9 on the airplay chart this week and seems destined to follow her debut smash I'm Like A Bird into the CIN Top 10. The album's initial success was due to I'm Like A Bird, which reached number five, spent five weeks in the Top 10, 16 weeks in the Top 75 and has sold more than 270,000 copies to date.

White Ladder took 66 weeks to reach number one but lost pole position a week later to Atomic Kitten's Right Now. The two albums reverse positions this week, with David Gray back in charge despite the fact White Ladder suffered a small decline in the week.

A repeat of the Tonight With Trevor McDonald feature on Eva Cassidy on Thursday gave a boost to her Songbird album, which leaps 37-5 with a 240% increase in sales week-on-week. The album, which topped the chart for two weeks in March, thus attains its highest position for 17 weeks.

U2 have had multiple chart entries on several occasions, with as many as seven albums in the Top 75 simultaneously in 1992. This week, driven by their UK tour dates, discounting and a Radio 2 documentary, they land five on the chart at once. Their current album All That You Can't Leave Behind climbs 22-15, and is joined in the Top 75 by The Joshua Tree (170-43), Achtung Baby (re-entry at 50), The Best Of 1980-1990 (79-52) and Rattle And Hum (re-entry at number 71). The Definitive Ray Charles is not just the highest new entry to the album chart this week - it is also the highest charting album from the veteran artist since his Modern Sounds In

Country And Western album reached number six in 1962. The Definitive... debuts at number 13, with sales of more than 11,000. It includes tracks from across his distinguished six decade career.

Canadian alt punk/pop rockers Sum 41 have moved 102-47-34-26 on the album chart with their major label debut All Killer No Filler, emulating climbs by other alternative acts in the last year. US alt rockers Alien Ant Farm are also moving albums, thanks to exposure to their cover of Michael Jackson's Smooth Criminal. ANIology was released in March and had sold nearly 20,000 copies before debuting at number 116 a fortnight ago. It jumps 64-35 this week, with sales more than doubled week-on-week.

Hardcore hip-hop act MOP's Warriorz album makes its chart debut at number 40 some 10 months after it was first released. Home to their Top 10 hits Cold As Ice and Ante Up, it sold 20,000 before being re-promoted last week.

COMPILATIONS

In week one, Now That's What I Call Music! 49 sold nearly eight times as many copies as its nearest challenger. In week two it was ahead by a factor of five, and in week three the ratio is down to three to one. After just 20 days in the shops, Now! 49 is the third biggest selling compilation of the year, with 529,000 copies sold. That's not quite enough to make it the fastest selling album of the year - Now! 48 (what else?) had sold 552,000 copies at the same stage of its life - but it is well ahead of any previous summer instalments of the Now series. Nearest challengers Now! 43 (1999) and Now! 46 (2000) had sold 407,000 and 459,000 respectively at the same stage.

While Now! 49 should enjoy at least another couple of weeks at number one, Now! 48 is probably close to departing the Top 50. It has its biggest fall yet, sliding 33-45 this week, and has been on the chart for 19 weeks, selling 862,000 copies. Oddly enough, it was played in its entirety numerous times on a new radio station last week, from start to finish with just trailers and jingles to punctuate it. The station that was playing it was Big Blue, the brand new Chelsea FC radio station which broadcasts on Sky Digital. The first of many proposed new stations of its kind (Saints Radio, for Southampton fans follows this week) it promises at least 30 minutes continuous music every hour, except when Chelsea are playing. I am not sure whether or not it was short of material to justify that boast last week but it certainly hammered Now! 48 continuously, although it never specified that it was doing so.
