CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

For the first time since last November, when Westlife's My Love, the top two singles are by boy bands, with two week champs Five's Let's Dance slipping to second place while the latest boy band sensation, Blue, debut at number one with Too Close. Five aside, the whole of the Top Five are new entries, with Blue being joined by Uncle Kracker, who is in at three with his deceptively gentle debut hit Follow Me; Louise, who debuts at number four with Stuck In The Middle With You having only been higher once in her solo career, with last year's 2 Faced; and Spice Girl Emma Bunton, who can not maintain the impetus of her solo debut What Tock You So Long, and has to settle for a number five debut with Take My Breath Away. Despite the plethora of newcomers at the top, and a 12% rise in sales of singles week-on-week, overall sales of 905,500 fall short of the 1m mark for an unprecedented 12th week in a row. Stuck In The Middle With You is Louise's

11th hit solo hit since departing Eternal in 1995 but only her second cover. To her credit, although even she would not claim her covers are the definitive versions, she has beaten the songs' originators' chart peaks on both occasions. Her first cover, Let's Go Round which reached number 24 here but which topped the Billboard Hot 100 in their homeland for five weeks in a year-long chart run. The Next/Blue saga has many echoes of the situation in 1996 when another boy band, East 17, joined with Gabrielle and reached number two with If You Ever, which was also a modest hit here (number 36 in 1992) for a US R&B act - Shai - while reaching number one in their homeland.

Again, reached number 10 in 1997, beating by two places the number 12 peak of The Average White Band's 1980 original, and Stuck In The Middle With You beats by four places the 1973 peak of Stealers Wheel's original.

Skydiver (I Feel Wonder full) finally makes the Top 40 for Freefall feat. Jan Johnston after four releases on different labels. It reached number 75 on the Stress label in its original 1998 version, and subsequent remixes have seen it reach 123 on Kosmos (sic) in January 2000 and number 43 on Renaissance the same July. The current version is on Incentive and debuts at number 35. Meanwhile, DJ Otzi's Hey Baby import slips 41 47 as stocks exhaust, but he is also in at number 193 with the follow up Do Wah Diddy. Both records are selling in Ireland, Scotland, Lancs and Yorks. Finally, DJ Luck & MC Neat are the second UK garage act to register five consecutive Top 20 hits, debuting at number 18 with I'm All About You. Artful Dodger were the first.

by ALAN JONES

For only the third time in album chart history, all of the top three are new entries. Slipknot's Iowa leads the way, with sales of nearly 52,000, while The Strokes' Is This It takes second place with nearly 48,500 sales and Five check in at number three with 40,000 sales of Kingsize. There are also debuts at number six for New Order's Get Ready (33,000 sales) and at number eight for the new Björk album Vespertine (23,000 sales). It is the first time that there has been five new entries among the top eight since May 27 last year. Despite this, sales of artist albums are up week on week by a fairly modest 1.3%.

Slipknot's charge to the top is a massive success for their record label Roadrunner, an Amsterdam based indie founded in 1981, which has had UK offices since 1986 and which is distributed here by Universal. The label's previous highest charting album here was Brazilian thrash metal group Sepultura's 1996 release Roots, which reached number

MARKET REPORT

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Although the introductory single Let's Dance was the first by the group to spend more than a week at number one, Five's Kingsize album has to settle for a number three debut this week behind new rock icons The Strokes and Slipknot. Kingsize sold more than 40,000 units last week, a small decline on the 44,000 first-week sales which earned their last album Invincible a number four debut in November 1999 but rather more than the sub-30,000 opening which nevertheless got their album chart career off to a flying start with the number one bow of their self-titled June 1998 debut. Invincible was preceded by two singles, namely If Ya Gettin' Down and Keep On Movin', and was released at a time of the year when sales generally are much higher. Despite its slow opening, Five went on to sell 600,000 units, while Invincible has sold 670,000 units.

Number one for the fifth week in a row, Now That's What I Call Music! 49 sold a further 54,000 units last week to bring its overall sales to 654,000. It continues to outsell all previous summer instalments of the series at the same stage of their cycle, and is fast catching up with cumulative sales of last year's summer release, Now! 46, which had sold 566,000 units at the same stage (88,000 fewer than Now! 49) and eventually sold 741,000.

Further to last week's mention of the release of more than 50 Ibiza albums so far this year, several more rained down on record shops last week, with potential confusion between the similarly titled Chilled Ibiza II from WSM and the Ministry Of Sound's Ibiza Chillout Session. The latter title debuts at number 12 with nearly 8,000 sales while Chilled Ibiza II is the week's highest new entry with slightly more than double its rivals figure. Chilled Ibiza II is, of course, the follow-up to the highly successful Chilled Ibiza, which was released exactly a year ago. Chilled Ibiza had a slower start - first week sales of 12,000 and a number eight chart posting - but after falling out of the Top 20 last September it was very successfully reactivated in May and has spent the last 18 weeks in the Top 20. With Chilled Ibiza II now stealing its thunder, however, it slips 8.13 this week. It has sold 367,000 units, all but 53,000 of them this year. Chilled Ibiza II will do very well to emulate its predecessor, even though it contains contributions from artists as diverse and well-known as Madonna, Moby, Primal Scream, The Doors and Groove Armada.
