SINGLE FACTFILE

A number two hit in 1962 for co-writer Bruce Channel, (and later featuring in the film Dirty Dancing) Hey Baby goes one better this week, storming 45-1 on the singles chart in a version by DJ Otzi. This move is made possible by the fact that the UK edition bears the same catalogue number as the import that has been selling in smaller numbers for several weeks. It is the biggest jump ever to the top of the charts - beating Captain Sensible's 33-1 leap with Happy Talk in 1982 - and delivers Austria its second number one in UK chart history, the first being the late Falco's 1986 Amadeus tribute to his famous countryman Mozart. A huge hit throughout Europe coupled with the import success of DJ Otzi's version - and a slight delay in its release - allowed an opportunistic local cover on Tempo Tons by 2 Amigos to chart this week at number 90.

Sales of Bob The Builder's Mambo No.5 only fell by a modest 15% but it still lost its throne to DJ Otzi's Hey Baby this week. Bob's single sold nearly 87,000 copies, DJ Otzi's some 4,000 more.

Featuring several new mixes, many of which first saw service on bootlegs, N-Trance's Set You Free is the week's highest new entry and a hit for the third time in seven years. After scraping into the chart at number 39 when first released in 1994, it was remixed and re-issued the following year and climbed as high as number two, being denied pole position by Celine Dion's Think Twice. The current incarnation of the song, which still features vocals by Kelly Lorenna, includes mixes by Rob Searle, Voodoo & Serano, BM Dube and Kenny Hayes, among others. It sold more than 34,000 copies last week to add to the track's previous 402,000 sales.

Samantha Mumba's debut album Gotta Tell You yields its fourth Top 5 hit this week, as Baby Come On Over debuts at number five. The 18-year old Dubliner previously reached number two with Gotta Tell You, number five with Body II Body and number three with Always Come Back to Your Love. The album includes several more potential hits, among them Mumba's current US single (a Diane Warren song called Don't Need You to Tell Me I'm Pretty), a sparkling version of Stevie Wonder's Signed, Sealed, Delivered and Lately (which is not a Wonder cover).

The Manic Street Preachers have had more hits than any other act who started their chart career in the Nineties, and are the first act to have four Top 20 hits in 2001. They reached number eight with So Why So Sad and number nine with Found That Soul, simultaneous releases in March, and number 15 with Ocean Spray in June. They return this week with Let Robeson Sing at number 19.

After reaching number four with her debut solo single Here With Me and number three with the follow-up Thank You, Dido has to settle for a number 17 debut for her third single, Hunter. Its more modest position is not due to lack of exposure - it surges 15.6 on the airplay chart. Instead the fact her album No Angel has already sold nearly 1.5m copies is more likely to be a major factor.

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Mariah Carey makes her album chart debut for Virgin this week following her successful tenure at Sony, which extended to 10 years and nine albums, all of them Top 10 entries save for her Christmas album, and two of them number ones. In light of her recent well publicised personal problems and the fact that her first Virgin single Loverboy peaked at number 12 in July, the number 10 debut of her Glitter album may be viewed on the upside of expectations. It also shows that support for Carey has diminished little since her final Sony album, Rainbow, which debuted and peaked at eight in 1999, with first-week sales of 26,000 and cumulative sales of 210,000. Carey topped the chart with 1993's Music Box and 1995's Daydream, the latter providing her highest ever weekly sale of 84,000 copies on its 13th week, which has at Christmas.

Jamiroquai's A Funk Odyssey album registers its second week at number one, with sales of 43,500 copies setting to hot a pace for The Charlatans and Bob Dylan to match. Combined with A Funk Odyssey's impressive tally of international debuts last week (see international p6), this looks like a real return to form for the group.

The Charlatans have had three number one albums, most recently Tellin' Stories in 1997, but have to settle for their second number two album in a row with Wonderland, which sold 33,000 copies last week. Meanwhile, even at the age of 60, Bob Dylan remains a potent chart presence, and impresses with Love And Theft - a collection of 12 new songs that Dylan himself considers 'blues based'. His first album of new material since 1997's acclaimed Time Out Of Mind, it easily beats that title's introductory chart position and sales (number 10, 15,000) by debuting at number three with 26,500 buyers.

Groove Armada would certainly not have suffered from vertigo when their 1999 album of that title reached number 23, but the eclectic and much vaunted dance duo head for an altogether higher plain with their follow up Goodbye Country (Hello Nightclub), which debuts at number five this week. Vertigo got off to a very slow start, debuting at number 69 with first week sales of 2,000 and taking 11 weeks to reach its highest position. It has continued to sell steadily ever since, with sales now just short of the 180,000 mark. Goodbye Country sold 22,500 copies last week alone.

PJ Harvey's Stories From The City, Stories From The Sea reached number 23 last October and spent just four weeks in the chart then, making it one of Harvey's least successful albums to date, with sales of 92,000. But it responds to its Mercury Music Prize win last Tuesday by jumping 134-61 this week with sales up by 127%, despite the relatively little press exposure that this year's prize received due to the tragic events on the other side of the Atlantic. Last year's winner, Badly Drawn Boy sold 49,000 copies of his The Hour Of Bewilderbeast album before getting the nod, and a further 271,000 subsequently.

COMPILATIONS

Six weeks after debuting at number one, Now That's What I Call Music! 49 cedes pole position to an album of identical vintage which debuted at number three behind it and which has spent the last five weeks at number two while drawing ever closer to its mighty rival. The album in question is The Classic Chillout Album, a Sony release, which has sold upwards of 216,500 copies in total, including 31,500 in the last week. Including familiar cuts like Missing by Everything But The Girl, it also gives a airing to lesser known recordings like Silver by Joolz Giani, Adagio by Robin Young, Smith and Nirod by Chris Davies. The gap between Now! 49 and The Classic Chillout Album was a massive 251,000 on the first week, when Now! 49 sold 274,000 and The Classic Chillout Album sold just 23,000. The difference between the two narrowed 128,000 63,000 34,000 20,000 11,000 in favour of Now! 49. This week sees The Classic Chillout Album 2,000 ahead.

After 17 weeks around the bottom of the compilation chart between positions 71 and 128, the Moulin Rouge soundtrack explodes to number three following the film's release. The album, featuring the all star take on Lady Marmalade which recently topped the singles chart, sold 19,500 copies last week, far more than its previous cumulative total of 8,300 units. The album includes vocal performances from stars Nicole Kidman and Ewan MacGregor, as well as Nature Boy by David Bowie with Massive Attack, Bono's remake of T.Rex's Children Of The Revolution and Beck and Timbaland's revision of Bowie's Diamond Dogs.
