THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Aaliyah becomes the first female and the seventh artist in all to post a posthumous number one this week, debuting in pole position with More Than A Woman. The only other artists to turn the trick are Buddy Holly, Eddie Cochran, Elvis Presley, John Lennon, Jackie Wilson and, most recently, Freddie Mercury.

Aaliyah's margin of victory at the top of the chart was just 595, with Puretone's Addicted To Bass taking runners-up position. Puretone were unlucky not to pip Aaliyah, least of all because some retailers accidentally put it on sale prematurely, forcing it into an early Top 75 debut last week at number 68. It sold 809 copies in so far, all of which would likely have occurred last week, enabling it to debut at number one. It is small compensation for Puretone that Addicted To Bass makes the second biggest Top 75 leap in chart history, being beaten only by the 7-2-2 leap made by Steps' It's The Way You Make Me Feel/Too Busy

SINGLE FACTFILE

Aaliyah's self-titled third album, which rebounds 106-65 this week. The first single from the set, We Need A Resolution, billed as Aaliyah featuring Timbaland, reached number 20 last July. More Than A Woman sold 32,000 copies last week, an improvement on the woefully low tally of less than 25,000 with which Daniel Bedingfield topped a week ago, but the second lowest total in 106 chart weeks in the current millennium.

been accompanied by a boom in sales. The rock bottom tally of 440,000 sales a fortnight ago was increased by 100,000 last week but was 26% below the level in the same week last year.

Dr Dre registers his ninth Top 40 hit this week and just fails to equal his previous chart peak of number three – a position he occupied a year ago next week, with his last single The Next Episode (a collaboration with Snoop Dogg). His new hit, Bad Intentions, debuts at number four and pairs him with fellow hip hop star Knoc-Turnal. It is Dre's fifth Top 10 hit in a row.

Denmark's DJ Alligator Project's The Whistle Song (Blow My Whistle Bitch) debuts this week at number five on Blackburn's All Around The World label – more than a year after the record peaked at a lowly number 57 first time around on Liberty. It has sold many thousands of copies on EMI import since then as its popularity has grown, the EMI disc peaking just three weeks ago at 102.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

by ALAN JONES

Returning to the number one position it first and last occupied for a fortnight immediately after release last April, the Stereophonics' third album, Just Enough Education To Perform, also sold its millionth copy last week, becoming the 18th artist album to do so this millennium. It is further evidence that the decision to re-press the album with their current hit Handbags & Gladrags on it was a shrewd one – the album has improved its chart position for seven weeks in a row since the move, and is one of just five from last week's chart to register week-on-week growth as the artist album market contracts by a further 27%. The other charters are Sophie Ellis Bextor's Read My Lips, which moves 9-4 on a 9% increase in sales, Nelly Furtado's Whoa! Nelly (38-18, 13%), Ja Rule's Pain Is Love (48-31, 16%) and Your New Favourite Band by the Hives (62-48, 6%).

Furtado's move, which is obviously linked to airplay for her latest single On The Radio

It is tough luck for "overnight sensation" Gordon Haskell, who saw his single How Wonderful You Are reach number two three weeks ago and suffers the same mixture of agony and ecstasy this week on the albums chart, where Harry's Bar likewise debuts at number two. The 55-year-old veteran, who made his debut solo album as long ago as 1969, has been in the album chart before, making a cameo appearance on 1970's In The Wake Of Poseidon (number four) and contributing most of the lead vocals of the subsequent Lizard, which reached number 30, exactly 30 years ago this week. The release of Harry's Bar, which sold more than 29,000 copies last week, speeds the decline of How Wonderful You Are, which slides 12-25, having sold a grand total of 136,000 copies. Haskell, it should be said, is a true solo artist, having written and produced all of the songs on Harry's Bar on his own.

(Remember The Days), gives the young Canadian singer-songwriter her highest chart position for 13 weeks. Meanwhile, Alicia

Keys, another female singer-songwriter who was among the best of the 2001 intake, sees a similarly impressive 15-10 jump for her debut set Songs In A Minor. It is only the third time the album has been in the Top 10, and marks its highest placing for nine weeks. Furtado's album has sold 472,000 copies so far, while Keys' has sold 420,000.

Keys deprives Canadian rockers Sum 41 of their Top 10 debut with All Killer No Filler. The album sold about 500 copies fewer than Songs In A Minor last week, and moves 12-11 to reach the highest position in its 24-week chart career, thanks to continued radio exposure of their single In Too Deep, which is also getting massive exposure on the Kerrang! music TV channel.

Lord Of The Rings' dominance of the box office chart continues to pay dividends for Howard Shore's soundtrack album, which improves 37-25 this week. The album sold more than 9,000 copies last week – more than any soundtrack album in either the artist or compilation chart – and is already the biggest seller out of more than 50 soundtrack albums Shore has composed.

COMPILATIONS

You could almost set your clock by it: a year to the week after Now That's What I Call Music! 47's seven-week reign at the top of the compilation chart was ended by Clubber's Guide To 2001, Now That's What I Call Music! 50's identical 49-day supremacy is overturned by Clubber's Guide To 2002. The latter album sold nearly 37,000 copies last week, slightly more than double the sales of Now! 50, which dips to number two.

Containing recent monsters such as Gotta Get Thru This by Daniel Bedingfield, Who Do You Love Now (Stringer) by Riva feat. Dannii Minogue, Rapture by IIO and upcoming hits like Sleep Talk by ATFC feat. Lisa Millett and Good Times by Feran, Clubber's Guide To 2002 sold 10,000 copies more on its debut than the 2001 equivalent but falls well short of the 47,000 tally with which Clubber's

Guide To...2000 opened two years ago, when it also made number one. It is also faring significantly better than Clubber's Guide To...99, which debuted at one three years ago with sales of 26,000.

2001 wasn't the best year for jungle music but proof that the genre is still alive and kicking comes from the healthy sales enjoyed by the Jungle Massive compilation. The WSM release surges 15-3 on the chart, with nearly 11,000 punters last week investing in the set, which was mixed by DJ Hype and includes jungle/drum & bass favourites such as Pulp Fiction by Alex Reece, the Gangja Cru's Super Sharp Shooter and Goldie's classic Inner City Life. Meanwhile, WSM's latest garage selection, Essential Grooves, mixed by Twice As Nice, is also making its mark, debuting at number nine, with sales of more than 7,000 last week.
