THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

The 73rd new number one of the 21st century, Enrique Iglesias' Hero is now in a three-way tie as the longest reigning, enjoying an untroubled fourth week in pole position to emulate the previous achievements of Atomic Kitten's Whole Again and Kylie Minogue's Can't Get You Out Of My Head. Hero sold nearly 99,000 copies last week, a total which exceeds the combined sales of S Club 7's You and DB Boulevard's Point Of View, which debut at two and three respectively. Sales of Hero jumped 20% last week, a development which coincides with an overall 34% jump in singles sales week-on-week, which can be attributed to school holidays, Valentine's Day and the release of a significant number of hot new singles. While Iglesias' record company Polydor will doubtless be pleased he has managed to last so long at number one with Hero, so far selling more than 380,000 singles, it has been a bit of a mixed blessing, depriving the label of number ones with No Doubt's Hey

Baby last week as well as with S Club 7's You this week.

Another big new hit for Polydor is French teenager Alizee's Moi...Lolita, which debuts this week at number nine. It is the first French language hit since Sash!'s Encore Une Fois,

SINGLE FACTFILE

Four number ones, four number twos and a number three – that is the enviable record of success achieved by S Club 7 on their first nine singles. It is an opening salvo of top three hits bettered only by the Spice Girls among all UK acts, and by Westlife from overseas. S Club 7's latest hit You debuts at number two this week but does so with first week sales of just 46,500. That is less than half as many as it would have needed to sell to dethrone

Enrique Iglesias' Hero, and fewer than the first week sales of all but one of S Club 7's eight previous hits, beating only the 39,000 opening week posted by Natural, their number three hit from September 2000. Their seven other hits have had opening weeks ranging from a high of 190,000 to a low of 84,000. You is the second hit from S Club 7's third album Sunshine, which reverses five weeks of decline by jumping 23-19 this week.

which debuted at number two five years ago next week – and the first with a full vocal since Celine Dion's Tu M'Aimes Encore in 1995.

All of the former Spice Girls saw their last single peak at a lower position than the one before but Victoria Beckham bucks the trend by debuting at number six this week with A Mind Of Its Own – the exact same position she reached with her single Not Such An Innocent Girl last September. First week sales of 'Mind' were below 24,000 however, while 'Girl' opened with 50% more.

Depeche Mode's latest 'single' was ruled ineligible for the chart as it includes four tracks, only two of which are mixes of the main track, Goodnight Lovers. It debuts atop the budget album chart but would only have managed a number 37 debut on the singles chart, which would have made it their smallest hit to date apart from the introductory Dreaming Of Me and the 1988 import Little 15.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Although there is only one new entry to the Top 75 this week – The Cooper Temple Clause's See This Through And Leave – artist album sales jumped by 15.5% last week to reach their highest level (2.754m) of the year. It is a clear illustration of the extent to which record companies have geared promotional activity around Valentine's Day this year, with the gain easily outstripping the 8% lift it gave to the artist albums market last year. Gains were seen throughout the chart – the only albums in the Top 40 to suffer week-on-week declines were The Chemical Brothers' Come With Us and Britney Spears' Britney – although the biggest winners were primarily a) major contemporary artists and b) age artists with compilations tailored to Valentine's Day.

In percentage terms, the biggest improvements week-on-week were by Billy Joel's The Ultimate Collection (177-42 with a 458% jump), Legacy – The Greatest Hits Of Boyz II Men (10-2, 154%), Dean Martin's Love

ALBUMS FACTFILE

The Cooper Temple Clause are one of the most talked about new bands of the year. Having excited comparisons with acts as diverse as the Verve and Pink Floyd, and descriptions from "skinny boy indie rockers" to "young men with the unwieldy name and topiary haircuts", their critically-acclaimed first album See This Through And Leave managed to sell nearly 12,500 copies last week to earn a number 27 debut. Praised in NME as a "defiant, often thrilling monstrosity", it comes hot on the heels of their debut Top 40 single a fortnight ago with Film Maker/Been Training Dogs, (two cuts off the album) and was helped by the band's participation in an eight-date tour of record shops last week to sign copies of, and play songs from, the album. Although the Reading band's tour did not take them to Scotland that is where the album sold best compared to the market overall.

last hit single, while Green equals his best ever chart placing, achieved 27 years ago by a previous Greatest Hits set. The biggest increase in unit sales was enjoyed by Enrique Iglesias' Escape album, which experienced a 49.5% hike, from 38,500 to 57,750. In his second week atop the albums chart, Iglesias has now sold 151,000 copies of Escape in 2001, making it the year's third biggest seller. (His single Hero is, by some distance, the number one single of the year with 381,000 sales, 179,000 ahead of Pink's Get The Party Started).

A 70% increase in sales week-on-week returns Westlife's World Of Our Own album to the Top 10 for the first time in seven weeks. With the title track out as a single today, the album has improved from 24 a fortnight ago to number seven, although it has also been helped by the fact the album has been selling for as little as £6.99 – an unexpected price point for an album by so big an act, especially so early in its life.

COMPILATIONS

With Valentine's Day gift buying high on the agenda, sales of compilations rocketed by 31% last week to reach more than 788,000, comfortably their highest level of the year. Leading the way, for the first time in chart history, were no fewer than three love song compilations, whose presence at the top of the chart underlines the reason for the surge. Coming out on top, WSM's Love So Strong sold nearly 46,500, while Virgin/EMI's The Love Album Classics sold more than 40,000, and Universal Music TV's Love found nearly 38,000 takers. The sales of Love So Strong, though excellent, compare poorly with the best-ever 86,000 tally with which the warners.esp/PolyGram title Love Songs won the Valentine's Day race in 1999. That seems to be a result of the fact that more companies promoting records as Valentine's Day gifts ever before, thus sharing sales among more discs. Compared to overall sales in the comparative week in 1999, album sales were 23.7% higher last week.

Love So Strong's winning formula included a shiny metallic sleeve and a collection of 40 romantic tunes, among them Kool & The Gang's Cherish and How Wonderful You Are by Gordon Haskell.

The week's highest new entry is New Pepsi Chart 2002, the latest in the successful Virgin/EMI series. It sold nearly 28,000 copies last week to debut at number four, a disappointing opening compared to its 2001 equivalent The New Pepsi Chart Album, which came out a week later but managed to sell nearly 47,000 copies in its first week to debut at number two. The most recent album in the series, Pepsi Chart 2002 spent a fortnight at number one last September, and logged first week sales of more than 51,500.
