MUSIC WEEK 20 APRIL 2002

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Number one for the fourth week in a row, Unchained Melody by Gareth Gates moves into a tie with Whole Again by Atomic Kitten, Can't Get You Out Of My Head by Kylie Minogue and Hero by Enrique Iglesias as the longest reigning number one of the 21st Century. It is somewhat fortunate to do so, since it sold only 44,000 copies last week, a 42% decrease on the previous frame. It means that Gates has beaten his Pop Idols rival Will Young's tally of three weeks at number one – Young slipped to number two on his fourth week, while selling 50% more copies than Gates sold last week. Sales of Unchained Melody surpassed the 1.2m mark on Saturday, making it the 48th biggest-selling single of all-time.

Head days for Skint. The Brighton-based record label is sponsor of Brighton & Hove Albion, who secured the Football League Division Two championship on Saturday. The label's latest release, Lazy by X-Press 2 was

SINGLE FACTFILE

A remarkable week for Faithless members past and present who are at least partly responsible for three of this week's Top 10 singles. Former member Jamie Catto's One Giant Leap debut at number nine with My Culture, which features guest vocals from his former Faithless colleague Maxi Jazz and Robbie Williams. Meanwhile, after peaking at 29 with their last two singles, Faithless themselves come back with One Step Too Far, which debuts at number six. It is the fourth single from their current Outrospective album, and reunites the group with occasional member Dido. And Dido, of course, is also co-author of Britney Spears' current hit Not A Girl, Not Yet A Woman, which moves 2-5 this week. The success of One Step Too Far has helped Outrospective leap 139-69 this week to make its first Top 75 appearance of the year, while moving past the 200,000 sales mark.

not quite able to equal that feat on the singles chart, though it sold nearly 38,000 copies to debut at number two. It is Skint's

10th Top 40 hit since its inception a little over seven years ago but all of the previous nine have been by one artist, namely Fatboy

Slim. Lazy is by far the biggest hit to date for X-Press 2, whose previous best placing was number 32 for the 1993 Junior Boy's Own release Say What, and it also earns vocalist and co-writer David Byrne – on loan from Talking Heads – the biggest single of his 21 year chart career, beating the number six peak of 1985's Road To Nowhere. Incidentally, Lazy seems an appropriate title for X-Press 2, who are shortly to deliver their first album, Muzikizum some 10 years into their recording career.

Shakira's first hit Whenever Wherever debuted seven weeks ago – and has yet to leave the top five. It prefers to be number three, a position it has held four times in all, including the last three weeks in a row.

Nickelback's How You Remind Me is the first single in more than a year to climb inside the Top 10 three weeks in a row. The single, which debuted seven weeks ago, has moved 9-6-5-4, and is now back at its peak position.

BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Raising Finance - April 27, 2002

For 2002, Music Week is re-inventing its approach to Business Affairs features, with the introduction of step by step guides to key areas of the sector. Our first guide, will cover the very relevant topic of raising finance. This A4 brochure will provide a unique reference guide for any company or individual looking for guidance on generating funding within the music industry.

Certain areas of the guide will be available for sponsorship, and there will also be opportunities to take advertising space as well as logo listings. There is a headline sponsorship package available for any company wishing to have a major presence in the guide.

Final deadline this week

Don't miss this opportunity to profile your business to the people that matter.

Sponsorship positions are limited, and will operate on a first come, first served basis.

For further details call Judith Rivers on 020 7579 4191 or email judith@musicweek.com

by ALAN JONES

Sheryl Crow's last album, The Globe Sessions sold more than 37,000 copies the week it was released in September 1998, being beaten only by the Manic Street Preachers' This Is My Truth Tell Me Yours, which was runaway chart champ that week with more than 60,000 buyers. Crow's new album C'mon C'mon also debuts at number two this week – and comes much closer to claiming top spot. It sold nearly 28,500 last week, only 3,500 or so fewer than Celine Dion's A New Day Has Come, which is number one for the third week in a row. If Crow is going to lose out, she'd probably prefer it to be to Dion – the Canadian gave her first decent royalty cheque by riding her song Love You Blind as the flip to her 1992 smash If You Asked Me To, shortly before Crow's career went into orbit. Although not containing the current hit version of Fly By II – it includes the original version, without the Herb Alpert samples – Blue's debut album All Rise has benefited from the blanket airplay the track has received. Released last November, All Rise climbed as high as number two but had slipped to number 40 by the time Fly By II was serviced. The turnaround was immediate – the album has since moved 40-20-16-14-11-atrocities – and a further 11 songs, all of which Crow had a hand in writing and producing. Although C'mon C'mon is Crow's first album for more than four years, she has not been idle and showed her versatility by collaborating with two very different artists on albums released within a week last November, adding her voice to Tony Bennett's on Good Morning Heartache (off Playin' With My Friends) and to Kid Rock's on Picture (off Cocky).

An abundance of TV advertising and an appearance on Des O'Connor's Cliff Richard special helped 60-year-old Shadows guitarist Hank Marvin to a mighty number 10 debut with his latest album, Guitar Player. Marvin, whose last solo album Marvin At The Movies reached number 17 in 2000, reprises old favourites like Hotel California, Killing Me Softly With His Song and The Beatles' Eleanor Rigby and Ticket To Ride on the album, which gives him his first ever Top 10 solo success.

The soundtrack to the new Nick Hornby movie, Badly Drawn Boy's About A Boy album debuts at six this week, earning him his first Top 10 placing. Gough's last album, The Hour Of The Bewilderbeast, never advanced beyond 13, despite winning the Mercury Music Prize. It has, however, continued to sell steadily since its June 2000 release, with nearly 350,000 buyers to date. About A Boy sold more than 20,500 copies last week.

COMPILATIONS

Having provided the number one single for the last seven weeks, Pop Idol now provides the number one compilation, with Pop Idol – The Big Band Album debuting at one after selling nearly 147,000 copies. It features solo recordings of big band favourites by each of the 10 finalists. Will Young and Zoe Birkett get two solos apiece, and Birkett also joins Gareth Gates on Oh Look At Me Now, making her the biggest contributor.

The album achieves something no other album has done since the compilation chart was established – it limits the reign of a regular Now! That's What I Call Music album to just two weeks. Its victim is Now! 51, which sold nearly 62,000 copies last week. The only consolation for Now! 51 is that it is by far the biggest selling compilation of the year to date, selling more than 394,000 copies in its first 20 days in the shops. The album is already number four for the year.

After the comparative failure of Cream Anthems 2002, which reached only number 18 last November, the superclub's ongoing series of collaborations with Virgin/EMI is back on track, with Cream Anthems Spring 2002 debuting at number four this week. It's the 17th Cream album to make the Top 20, most of them in association with Virgin/EMI, and the first to pursue a spring theme.

The ongoing exploitation of the popular WWF (World Wrestling Federation) pantomime continues with WWF – Forceable Entry providing the highest charting compilation yet for a series in which the previous high came from 2000's WWF Aggression (number 11). The new collection features 18 favourites, including The Beautiful People by Marilyn Manson. WWF has had a number of partners in the past, including Koch, Priority and Polydor. The latest placed with Columbia.
