THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Spending a third week at number one, despite a 36% decline in sales week-on-week, Gareth Gates' Anyone Of Us (Stupid Mistake) brings the 18-year-old his seventh week at number one in total this year, following the four-week reign of his debut hit Unchained Melody in March/April. Gates is the first artist to have two singles each spend three or more weeks at number one in the same year since 1995 when two other BMG acts – Take That and Robson & Jerome – did likewise. More impressively, Gates is the first male solo artist to have a pair of hits of such chart-topping longevity since 1981, when 'n'kin' Stevens spent three weeks at the summit with This Ole House and four with Green Door. Anyone Of Us extends BMG's lock on the top spot to nine weeks – the longest by one company since 1995, when Universal enjoyed a 21 week spree thanks to Manchester United (two weeks), Wet Wet Wet (15 weeks) and Whigfield (four weeks).

Shakira's debut hit Whenever Wherever is

S Club 7 had three number two hits in a row immediately after their chart-topping debut Bring It All Back, so it is appropriate that S Club Juniors – eight assured juveniles with an average age of 12-and-a-half – should start their chart career with consecutive number two hits. Three months ago, the group's first single One Step Closer debuted at number two with first week sales of nearly 84,500, and went on to sell

SINGLE FACTFILE

280,000. This week, despite an opening tally of just over 51,000, Automatic High does likewise. One Step Closer lost out by just 1,027 sales to the Sugababes' Freak Like Me, but S Club Juniors' failure to top the chart this time lies at the hands of fellow 19 Management client, Gareth Gates, who is several years their elder at 18, and whose Anyone Of Us single outsold theirs by more than 30% last week.

by ALAN JONES

In the absence of anything remotely popular enough to unseat them, the Red Hot Chili Peppers' By The Way and Oasis' Heathen Chemistry continue at one and two on the album chart for the third straight week. The Peppers' album suffered an insubstantial 22% dip on its third week in the shops, selling a further 56,700 to take sales rapidly past the 250,000 mark. Heathen Chemistry also acquitted itself well, slipping 26% to a little over 34,000 to post a four-week tally of 386,000.

Closer to the pair, with a 7% slide week-on-week, Ashanti's self-titled debut album sold only 21,000 copies to move 4-3, a new high in its 16-week chart tenure.

Re-entering the chart at number 26, its highest position for 18 weeks, Elton John's Songs From The West Coast owes its resurgence to the release of a double disc edition, the bonus disc adding his current Your Song single duet with Alessandro Safina, a couple of collaborations with Lulu, Original

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Aerosmith's long and glorious career stretches back nearly 30 years and has been heavily punctuated with "best of" compilations. Nevertheless, the allure of the latest one – a double-disc set entitled O Yeah: The Ultimate Hits – is such that it wins highest debut honours this week, landing at number six after selling nearly 19,000 copies. That is a position beaten by only three of the group's previous albums and none of their compilations, and is all the more impressive since it is only eight months since the arrival of Young Lust – The Anthology, a 34-track double disc drawing on the group's time with Geffen, which reached number 32 and has thus far sold 176,000 copies. O Yeah brings together their Geffen and Columbia recordings and is clearly more keenly appreciated for doing so. Their catalogue also includes the compilations Greatest Hits, First Decade, Gems, Pandora's Box, Big Ones and Greatest Hits 1973-1988.

COMPILATIONS

There is no significant change in the singles or artist albums markets this week as they continue their summer slumbers – they are up 2% and down 4%, for what it is worth, but a 44% explosion in compilation sales can mean only one thing – the latest Now That's What I Call Music! has arrived. Now! 52 is its name, and sales are its game. It sold more than 227,000 copies last week, nearly seven times as many as the number two album Clubland: The Ride Of Your Life and marginally less than the rest of the Top 20 added together. Good? Yes – and no.

On the plus side, it is the highest weekly sale by a compilation thus far in 2002, beating the 224,500 tally set by Now! 51 in April, and it does so even though it features none of the last three number ones as BMG, who are behind the number one singles, and their pals at Warner Music. Sony and Telstar continue to save their tracks for the rival Hits series. Against this, Now! 52's 227,000 sales is some way off the 274,000 opening of Now! 49 a year ago this week. Now! 51's 224,500 tally mentioned above was itself some distance short of the 300,000 opening of its 2001 equivalent Now! 48, so it could be argued that the Now! series is in decline, at least temporarily, with the two 2002 volumes starting on average 21% down on their 2001 counterparts.

Now! 52 may also be suffering from the inclusion of a few underachievers like Omeria Mumba's Lil' Big Man (number 42), some unsympathetic edits and even a non-hit ('N Sync's album version of Girlfriend, rather than the number two charting reinterpretation featuring Nelly).
