SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Securing Hugh Goldsmith's Innocent imprint its first number one hit of the year and ninth in total since its 1998 inception, Atomic Kitten's The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling) sold nearly 145,000 copies last week, comprehensively routing the opposition, with nearest challengers Blazin' Squad's Crossroads outsold by a hefty ratio of 9:2, on sales of just more than 32,000. The Tide Is High accounted for a creditable 18% of the singles market last week, helping it to a marginal week-on-week gain of 0.34%, in a third successive week of growth. Compared to the same week last year, when Atomic Kitten's labelmates Blue were number one, sales of singles are down by more than 11%.

Palpably failing to come near to matching the success of his previous 2002 singles Hero (number one in February) and Escape (number three in May), Enrique Iglesias' Love To See You Cry nevertheless makes a decent debut at number 12. More importantly, it has been getting plenty of airplay, with the result that sales of Iglesias' album Escape – from which all three of this year's singles are taken – have been increasing again. The album, which is the First-week sales of nearly 145,000 for The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling) provide Atomic Kitten with a personal best – topping the 142,000 debut of last year's Eternal Flame – and their third number one in eight outings. As its parenthetical title suggests, this track, though heavily based on Blondie's 1980 chart-topper The Tide Is High, also includes new elements, adding four writers names to that of John Holt, the reggae star who originally penned the track when a member of the Paragons. The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling) is the second single from Atomic Kitten's upcoming second album Feels So Good, following It's OK, which reached number three in June. Their November 2000 debut album Right Now belatedly topped the chart nine months later, and has so far sold more than 440,000 copies. Their total singles sales should top the 2m mark today (September 2).

TOP CORPORATE GROUPS

has increased its sales three weeks in a row. Escape sold nearly 20,000 copies last week – its highest tally for eight weeks.

Three months after reaching number seven with It Takes More, Ms. Dynamite consolidates her success by debuting at number five with the follow-up Dy-Na-Mi-Tee. Both tracks are from the 21-year-old Londoner's debut album A Little Deeper, which was struggling at number 63 six weeks ago, but which has shown rapid sales growth every week since and climbs to number 20 this week, its highest position since it debuted at number 14 some 11 weeks ago.

Chad Kroeger, lead singer of Nickelback, registers his third Top 10 hit in less than six months, as the group's Too Bad debuts at number nine. Their first hit How You Remind Me peaked at number four and spent 11 weeks in the Top 10 earlier this year on its way to sales of more than 400,000, while Kroeger's subsequent Hero collaboration with Josey Scott of Saliva also reached number four in June.

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Selling as many copies as the rest of the Top 10 put together, Coldplay's second album, A Rush Of Blood To The Head, was always on course for a convincing victory at the top of the chart this week, but spare a thought for the Sugababes, who also premiered their second album, Angels With Dirty Faces, and had to settle for second place, even though its first-week sales of nearly 65,000 would have earned them the number one position more often than not this year. Angels With Dirty Faces is home to the Sugababes' two number one hits, Freak Like Me and Round Round, and sold more copies in seven days than their debut album, One Touch, sold in its first seven weeks, as well as massively improving on that record's number 26 chart peak.

Coldplay overshadowed the rest, but the Top 50 albums chart welcomes numerous rock albums this week, with Queens Of The Stone Age debuting at number four (50 places above the opening position of their last album, R) with Songs For The Deaf, Bowling For Soup in at

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Confirming their position as the most popular new British rock act to emerge this century, Coldplay sold nearly 274,000 copies of their second album, A Rush Of Blood To The Head, last week. With help from some heavy discounting – £9.99 was fairly commonplace – it became the first album this year to sell more than 250,000 copies in a week, beating the previous high of 230,000 set by Oasis' Heathen Chemistry eight weeks ago, and the 228,000 opening of The Eminem Show 13 weeks ago. The last album to open with a higher sale was Robbie Williams' Swing When You're Winning, which sold more than 295,000 on its November 2001 debut. Coldplay are the ninth act already this century to have two number one albums. Their introductory album Parachutes sold 70,000 to debut at number one in June 2000.

The combined effect of a bank holiday documentary, repackaging, and a renewed TV advertising campaign resulted in the Carpenters' Gold – Greatest Hits making a dramatic 167-23 leap on the chart with sales up nearly 900% week-on-week. In the Top 75 for the first time in a year-and-a-half, the album comes within two places of its November 2000 peak and increases its sales total to 418,000.

The combination of a bank holiday, the release of Coldplay's new album and some deep discounting (chart albums as little as £8.48 in Tesco) gave the artist albums market a massive 30% boost last week. All told, some 2,105,000 artist albums were sold. Although the compilations market slipped by 4% to just more than 570,000, the combined tally of 2,675,000 was the highest for albums for 25 weeks, when the tally of 2,723,000 was attributable to Mother's Day gift buying. This week in 2000 saw 1,910,000 albums sold, while 2001 was lower still at 1,726,000.

COMPILATIONS

After five weeks at the top of the compilation chart, Now That's What I Call Music! 52 is demoted to second place, allowing BMG/Telstar TV's The Very Best Of Pure R&B: The Summer Collection to sneak a narrow victory at the fourth attempt. Mixed by the Firin' Squad, The Very Best Of Pure R&B: The Summer Collection has sold consistently well since its release, moving 3-2-3-1 while never selling less than 27,000 or more than 30,000 copies in a week. Its total sales so far are 114,000.

Among the 42 tracks featured on the double disc set are classic oldies like You're Makin' Me High by Toni Braxton and Right Here by SWW and more recent hits, among them Liberty X's Just A Little and Fallin' by Alicia Keys. It's easily the most successful in the Pure R&B series, which has previously run to four releases of which the first (Pure R&B) was the highest-charting, reaching number six two years ago; the second (Pure R&B 2) was the biggest seller (114,000 sales since November 2000); and the most recent (Pure R&B 4) was the least successful both chartwise and saleswise, reaching number 35 last November and selling just 31,000 copies to date.

In a very quiet week on the chart, the only new entry to the Top 20 is Chilled Jazz, a collection of sophisticated chill-out tracks, many of them by artists not generally regarded as jazz musicians, including David Holmes, Lamb and the Style Council. The album, on Universal Classics Jazz, debuts at number 14, joining the same label's The Very Best Of Smooth Jazz in the Top 20. The latter disc has quietly amassed sales of 110,000 in the last 10 weeks.
