SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Liberty X miss out on their much-anticipated and widely-expected second number one by a margin of just 1,343 copies as their cover of Mantronix's 1990 number four hit Got To Have Your Love tries and fails to unseat Atomic Kitten's The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling). While it is no disgrace to understudy the Kittens, first-week sales of Got To Have Your Love were massively down on Liberty X's last single, Just A Little, which opened with a tally of more than 153,000 in May. There is some consolation in the fact that the popularity of Got To Have Your Love, which is number three on the airplay chart, has seen their album Thinking It Over increase its sales and improve its chart position six times in the last seven weeks, swelling from a low of 4,100 sales and 47th place on the chart to its number 18 placing and sales of nearly 11,000 in the past week.

Atomic Kitten become the second act thus far in 2002 to simultaneously top the singles and albums charts, emulating Enrique Iglesias and surviving for a third week at the summit with their single The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling) while debuting at the top of the album list with Feels So Good. The single sold a little more than 46,000 copies last week to raise its three-week sales tally to more than 258,000. Although still way behind Whole Again, which has sold more than 938,000 copies, it could exceed Eternal Flame, which is the group's second biggest single, with sales of 384,000. At the same stage of its life, Flame had sold slightly more (261,000) and had lost the number one position.

Although Atomic Kitten continue to top the chart, the next five singles are all new entries. With another debut disc at number 10, there are six new entries in the upper echelon for only the third time in the past 12 months. Despite this, overall singles sales are down for the third week in a row.

If you think the supply of hitmakers generated by Pop Idol had dried up – think again. Following Will Young, Gareth Gates, Rick

Waller, Jessica Garlick and Darius into the chart this week is Sarah Whatmore, with her debut hit When I Lost You. The 21-year-old singer did not make it to the last 10 of Pop Idol but made enough of an impression on judge Simon Cowell to join his roster.

With 22 Top 10 hits in a row, Ronan Keating is a record-breaker. In fact, he has never had a single chart lower than number six. After 16 hits with Boyzone, his sixth solo hit is I Love It When You Do, which charts this week at five.

Scotter reached number two in June with The Logical Song, which enjoyed a remarkable chart run, spending nine weeks in the Top 10 and 13 weeks in the Top 40, selling more than 380,000 copies. It finally dips out of the Top 40 this week, only to be replaced by their new single Nessaja, which debuts at number four.

It's over a year since Madonna released a single but two of her number ones have become major hits for other artists in recent weeks. Five weeks ago, Madhouse reached number three with their Euro-dance version of Like A Prayer, and this week Kelly Osbourne makes her debut in the same position with a spirited romp through Papa Don't Preach.

MUSIC WEEK 21 SEPTEMBER 2002

21 SEPTEMBER 2002

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Atomic Kitten are one of 10 girl groups to top the singles chart and one of just five to have number one albums. This week they emulate the Spice Girls, who are the only previous girl group to top the two charts simultaneously. The Spice Girls did it in 1996, with their debut album Spice and the single 2 Become 1, and repeated it the following year with the same album and the single Mama/Who Do You Think You Are?

ALBUMS FACTFILE

Atomic Kitten do it courtesy of The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling), at number one on the singles chart for the third week in a row, and the album Feels So Good, which debuts in pole position after selling a little more than 80,000 copies. That is easily the Kittens best-ever weekly sale, topping the 47,500 tally their revamped debut Right Now sold when re-entering the chart at number one when relaunched in August 2001.

Atomic Kitten join Diana Ross & The Supremes and the Spice Girls as the only girl groups to have two number ones (All Saints and Destiny's Child have had one apiece, no other girls groups have any). Having previously topped the chart last year with their debut set Right Now, the Kittens return to the summit this week with the follow-up Feels So Good. The Kittens have supplied both number one albums thus far for their label, Innocent, though their labelmates Blue have secured both the label's biggest seller overall and its highest one-week sale courtesy of All Rise, which has sold more than 1,047,000 copies so far, including 176,000 in a week when it peaked at number three last Christmas.

Despite losing their sales throne to Atomic Kitten, Coldplay enjoy a third week of excellent sales with A Rush Of Blood To The Head, which sold more than 63,000 copies last week to bring its sales after just three weeks in the shops to more than 445,000. That puts it 10th place in the year-to-date best sellers list.

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

Atomic Kitten were not the only act searching for a second straight number one this week. So were Irish rockers Ash, who previously topped the chart in 1996 with 1977, which achieved first-week sales of more than 54,000. After the disappointment of Nu Clear

Sounds, which got to number seven in 1998, Ash's second number one was Free All Angels which arrived at the summit 16 months ago, selling more than 39,900 copies on its first week. Their "best of" set Intergalactic Sonic 7's is no match for Atomic Kitten, arriving at number three with first week sales of 28,000.

Nearly 37 years after its first chart appearance, and 22 years after it charted again on reissue, The Who's classic debut album My Generation – newly expanded to a double-disc edition crammed with outtakes and rarities – sold more than 4,000 copies last week to return to the chart at number 47.

Already the year's biggest-selling album, Enrique Iglesias's Escape stretches its lead over its main challengers this week by rising 7-4 on the album chart to achieve its highest chart placing for 14 weeks. The album, which was released 10 months ago, sold nearly 27,000 copies last week to lift its 2002 tally to 777,000 sales – 127,000 more than its nearest challenger, The Eminem Show.

COMPILATIONS

After opening with a bumper sale of 57,500, Smash! Hits – Let's Party suffered only a small decline last week, selling a further 52,500 copies, and is once again runaway chart champion, with more than three sales to every one of nearest challenger, The Album 4.

The Smash Hits album, marketed by the Now! triumvirate of Universal Music TV, EMI and Virgin, speeds 76-23 on the year to date compilation chart and is very much on track to become the biggest selling Smash Hits album of the 26 marketed using its name since 1938. By this time next week, it should be close to overhauling its predecessor – Smash Hits Summer 2002 – despite giving it three months start in the marketplace. Quite why Smash! Hits – Let's Party is such a success at a time when the magazine of the same name which launched the brand (now expanded to include TV and radio stations) is in a circulation slump is hard to explain – but it may just be that filling the two-disc set with the year's more commercial hits (including tracks from N-Trance, Mark 'On, Scooter, DJ Aligator, the Baha Men, Mad'House, S Club Juniors and the like) has won it extra sales.

Another magazine whose brand is pure gold at the moment is Kerrang!, the veteran rock fortnightly which has found fresh life with the advent of nu metal. Kerrang! 4 – The Album is this week's highest new entry, debuting at number four, with sales of more than 15,000. That equals the highest placing and beats the first-week sale (13,900) of Kerrang! 3. Kerrang! 2 reached only number eight last November but is the series' biggest seller, with 199,000 copies sold thanks to Christmas.
