SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

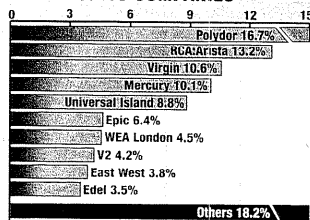

Alecia Moore – aka Pink – was 23 a fortnight ago and gets a belated birthday present from the British public in the form of her first solo number one with Just Like A Pill. Pink topped the chart last year, joining Christina Aguilera, Lil' Kim and Mya on Lady Marmalade, and has had five previous solo singles, all of which reached the Top 10. Just Like A Pill is the third single from Pink's current album Missundaztood, following Get The Party

SINGLES FACTFILE

Started and Don't Let Me Get Me. Get The Party Started reached number two in January and was her highest-charting solo single hitherto. Its first-week sales topped 60,000, while Just Like A Pill sold slightly less than 49,000 copies last week. The Missundaztood album has increased its sales week-on-week nine times in a row and sold more than 32,500 copies last week to climb 5-4, equalling the peak it achieved in February.

Their self-titled album is out today.

Radio has been even less kind to Aqualung – essentially singer/songwriter Matt Hales, who was previously with Ruth and the 45s – but the excellent single Strange And Beautiful (I Put A Spell On You) has had weeks of exposure as the soundtrack to the current Volkswagen VW Beetle advert. It debuts at number seven, with 21,000 sales.

Veteran rockers Bon Jovi attain a top five placing for only the fifth time in their career with Everyday. The first single from their upcoming album Bounce, it debuts at number five with nearly 30,000 sales. Although Bounce is not out until next month, fans of the group can hear it in its entirety online as many times as they like if they purchase it from Amazon, which is streaming it to buyers – a novel way of securing sales.

Shooting for his third consecutive number one, Eminem fails this week, debuting instead at number four with Cleanin' Out My Closet. That is good enough to give him his eighth straight Top 10 hit. Like his last single, Without Me (number one in June), it is taken from his current album The Eminem Show, which has already gone double-platinum and is the year's second-biggest selling album, trailing only Enrique Iglesias' Escape.

MUSIC WEEK 28 SEPTEMBER 2002

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Surprisingly, Paul Weller has had few number one albums. With the Jam, his only trip to the top came in 1982 with The Gift. He subsequently chaired the Style Council to the summit just once too, with Our Favourite Shop in 1985. And eight solo albums also brought one number one, thanks to 1995's Stanley Road. Weller could be forgiven for thinking his days as a number one act were over – but this week he returns to pole position with his latest solo effort Illumination, claiming the prize after selling more than 54,000 copies. That is about 8,500 fewer than Stanley Road sold when it topped the chart, but improves on the 40,000 copies the Days Of Speed live set sold when debuting at number three last autumn and also ups the ante from the 48,000 opening made by his last studio album, Heliocentric, when it debuted at number two in 1999.

The Independent label is five years old and has already had a brace of number one albums from its top act Travis. It registers its third this week thanks to old timer Paul Weller, whose Illumination debuts in pole position a fortnight after he landed his biggest hit in six years with the introductory single It's Written In The Stars, which reached number seven. Illumination sold more than 54,000 last week, about 5,000 more than Coldplay's A Rush Of Blood To The Head, which remains at number two and approximately 8,000 more than Atomic Kitten's Feels So Good, which dips 1-3.

Ms Dynamite's Mercury Music Prize and the subsequent publicity it garnered helped her but album A Little Deeper to jump 16-10, achieving the highest placing of its 15-week chart career. The album, which debuted and peaked at number 14 in June, sold nearly 17,000 last week to bring its career total to nearly 120,000. It was flagging a little before its win, but a 13.3% dip in sales on Tuesday was followed by a 73.5% jump on Wednesday, and Saturday's sales were an impressive 99.2% up week-on-week. Veteran singer songwriters Chris Rea and

Chris De Burgh have both had number one albums in careers spanning more than 20 years and both delivered new albums last week. Rea's album – a delta blues labour of love – debuts at number 14 on the new indie label Jazzee Blue, representing a major improvement on both the number 26 posting of his final East West studio album, 2000's King Of The Beach, and last November's Very Best Of Chris Rea, which got no higher than number 69. De Burgh's Timing Is Everything debuts at number 41, compared to the number 19 peak of his 2001 best of, The Ultimate Collection, and the number 23 peak of his last all new set, 1999's Quiet Revolution. Rea's album sold more than 15,000 last week, De Burgh's fewer than 5,000.

Some 25 Years after his death, Marc Bolan was the subject of several radio specials and a TOTP2 tribute last week, helping to generate more than 14,000 sales for the T Rex compilation The Essential Collection, which debuts at number 18. It is the 22nd Bolan/T.Rex album to chart, and the most successful since The Ultimate Collection reached number four in 1991.

COMPILATIONS

Smash! Hits: Let's Party continues to break records for the brand, enjoying a third week at number one and a comparatively slim dip of 13% in sales week-on-week, to take its 20-day sales tally to 156,000.

That is enough to make the album – which features the likes of Gareth Gates, S Club Juniors, Blue and Britney Spears – the 13th biggest seller of the year to date. It is already breathing down the neck of its predecessor, Smash! Hits: Summer 2002, which has sold just 4,000 copies more despite being released 13 weeks before its upstart successor.

The 45,500 copies Smash! Hits: Let's Party sold last week is more than its two nearest challengers combined, with third-placed Dance Nation Anthems chipping in nearly 20,000 sales and Westwood: Volume 3 debuting at number two with 24,500 buyers. Despite failing to unseat the Smash! Hits set, the latter album must be judged a major success. As its title suggests, it is the third Def Jam/Universal Music Television album to bear the brand of Radio One's top hip hop DJ and it has easily outperformed the first two. The original Westwood reached number seven in March 2001, while Westwood: Volume 2 got to number 19 in an admittedly tougher market last December.

Like its predecessors, Westwood: Volume 3 gives little exposure to UK acts, with the vast majority of cuts being by US acts.

It is, by some distance, the top hip hop album in the compilation chart, with no other album of a similar nature selling the 914 copies it requires to make the Top 50, although the retro set Reminisce on Incredible (a soul/hip hop hybrid) is ranked number 34.
