SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Last year was a terrible year for singles and there is no suggestion that we have turned the corner yet, but there is a temporary respite from the bad news, with singles sales for last week, at more than 485,000, coming in a healthy 10.3% above the comparable week in 2002. That is despite the fact there are no new entries to the Top 10, with rapper Erick Sermon's React arriving at number 14 to take highest debut honours, with just three other records – all dance discs – making Top 40 bows. At the top of the chart, Girls Aloud extend their reign to three weeks with Sound Of The Underground, which sold more than 34,000 copies last week to take its three-week run to 398,000. It ends a run of 10 consecutive number ones which spent no more than two weeks on top, becoming the first three-week topper since fellow girl group Atomic Kitten's The Tide Is High (Get The Feeling) last September.

Meanwhile, the record which was the 100th number one single of the 21st Century –

Daniel Bedingfield's If You're Not The One improves 6-4 on its sixth week in the Top 10. Selling 300,000 copies thus far, it has helped Bedingfield's debut album Gotta Get Thru This to stage a remarkable recovery. The album was released back in September but after an initial flourish it rapidly disappeared from the chart. The subtle charms of If You're Not The One brought Gotta Get Thru This back onto the Top 200 nine weeks ago, since when it has improved its position every week. This week it climbs to number 13 – matching the peak position it registered on its debut. Although the title track was a number one single a year ago, and the follow-up James Dean (I Wanna Know) reached number four, the album had sold only 34,000 before If You're Not The One turned it around. It has now sold the substantially more satisfactory total of 292,000 copies.

Six months after Scooter's hardcore revision of The Logical Song brought them a number two hit and the 15th biggest seller of 2002, Supertramp's back catalogue provides another unlikely pop/dance crossover success. This time it is the Low Countries combo CK & the Supreme Dream Team whose adaptation of Supertramp's 1975 number 18 debut hit Dreamer makes the grade, charting at number 23 following substantial success in the clubs.

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Eighteen weeks after debuting at number 50, Canada's hottest new singer-songwriter Avril Lavigne's debut album Let Go is number one, replacing Robbie Williams' six-week topper Escapology. Williams was expected to match his personal record of seven weeks at number one – set a year ago by Swing When You're Winning – with Escapology this week but buoyed by the continuing Top 10 success of her second single Sk8er Boi, which inches up to number eight, Lavigne's album suffered a smaller post-Christmas dip than most. It sold nearly 52,000 copies last week to claim pole position, ending up more than 8,000 ahead of Escapology. Cumulative sales of Let Go now exceed three quarters of a million. In the US, the album has made an even more impressive showing, selling 3,858,000 copies since its release 29 weeks ago.

Artist album sales more than halved last week to 2,705,000 compared with 5,334,000 the week before – but that is no more than can be expected at this time of the year. Until recently, sales would decline much more steeply after Christmas but increasingly widespread deep discounting of both catalogue and new albums has done a great deal to provide healthy sales numbers, if not profits, well into the new year. Last week's tally of artist album sales is 14% up on the same week last year, 28% up on 2001 and 50% ahead of the week's tally of 1,799,000 in 2000, when shops were closed for longer due to millennium holidays. Sales in the last week of 2002 were also way ahead of the pace of the previous three years, beating 2001 by 19%, 2000 by 63% and 1999 by 110%.

The youngest male solo artist to top the album chart, Neil Reid, was just 12 years and nine months old when his debut reached the top in 1972, and four female solo stars (Helen Shapiro, Nicole, Billie and Britney Spears) have topped the singles chart before their 18th birthday, but no female solo star under 20 has ever topped the albums chart – until this week.

Step forward Avril Lavigne. The Canadian singer-songwriter, who turned 18 just three months ago, moves 4-1 on the albums chart

COMPILATIONS

After a difficult year, compilations turned in a sterling sales performance last week, when nearly 889,000 discs were sold. That is 25% more than this week in 2002, and 53% more than in either 2001 and 2000. Ironically, a lot of those extra sales are as a result of some of 2002's more disappointing titles being offloaded for as little as £3.99.

Meanwhile, topping the chart for the seventh straight week, Now That's What I Call Music! 53 sold little more than 27,000 copies last week. While that puts it within striking distance of its millionth sale at 977,000, it is considerably fewer than Now! 50, Now! 47 and Now! 44 which sold 1,248,000, 1,240,000 and 1,481,000 over an identical period in 2001/2, 2000/1 and 1999/2000 respectively. Whether Now! 53's disappointing figures reflect the malaise of the singles sector, the weakening appeal of the Now! series or something else remains to be seen.

A year ago this week, The Best Air Guitar Album In The World jumped 6-2 on its ninth week in the Top 10. The album was a big success, eventually selling more than 377,000 copies. Twelve months on, its successor, The Best Air Guitar Album In The World 2, is performing at least as well. Though released a couple of weeks later in the year, it jumps 3-2 on its seventh week in the chart, and has already accumulated sales of 295,000, including more than 20,000 last week. The week it was number two, the original album sold only 15,000 copies and had cumulative sales of 287,000. With longer lasting appeal than albums of contemporary hits, it went on to spend 23 weeks in the Top 50, a total The Best Air Guitar Album In The World 2 looks capable of beating.
