SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

When Christina Aguilera's latest album Stripped was released last Autumn it debuted disappointingly at number 19, and declined in each of the next six weeks, reaching a low of number 61 before the introductory single Dirrty leapt to the top of the chart. This week the album spawns its second straight number one single, with Beautiful debuting in pole position. Dirrty sold nearly 74,000 copies to secure its number one posting, while Beautiful makes it with 59,500. The success of the two singles continues to reap major benefits for Stripped - the album climbs 7-6 on its sixth straight week in the Top 10, and has sold 363,000 copies to date, including a best-yet tally of 42,000 last week. Aguilera, of course, topped the chart with her debut single Genie In A Bottle in 1999, and also shared a number one remake of Lady Marmalade with Lil' Kim, Mya and Pink in 2001.

DJ Sammy and Christina Aguilera topped the chart with singles last November and were both looking to do the same again this week with their follow-ups but DJ Sammy has to settle for runners-up spot this time as Aguilera triumphs again. Her power ballad Beautiful is a comfortable 30% ahead of DJ Sammy's single, and earns a first ever number one writing credit - after two number twos - for Linda Perry.

Perry was the big-voiced singer and songwriter of 4 Non Blonde's What's Up, which spent a couple of weeks at number two in 1993, behind Take That's Pray. 4 Non Blondes are no longer with us but Perry, now a widely respected songwriter, and secured her second UK number two in January of last year with Pink's Get This Party Started.

Although failing to beat Aguilera, DJ Sammy has once again acquitted himself well. Both of his hits thus far have been dance remakes of 1985 songs by gravel-voiced rockers - and in both cases he has outperformed the original. Bryan Adams' number 38 hit Heaven was number one for

DJ Sammy four months ago. Boys Of Summer, number two in DJ Sammy's version this week, was originally a number 12 hit for Don Henley.

Although it has some way to go to match ITV's Pop Idol, which has thus far generated hits for 10 of its participants, the BBC's Fame Academy programme throws up its third hitmaker in Ainslie Henderson.

Competition winner David Sneddon set the ball rolling, topping the chart with his single Stop Living The Lie six weeks ago, and runner-up Sinead Quinn registered a number three hit last week with I Can't Break Down. Ainslie, who finished fourth, joins them in the chart this week, debuting at number five with Keep Me A Secret - a song he co-wrote with Quinn.

Forever Young was German group Alphaville's uncharted follow-up to their 1984 Top 10 smash Big In Japan. 12 years later another German group, Interactive, took the song to number 29. This week a remixed version of Interactive's cover returns to the chart. It can't beat its original peak, however, debuting at number 37.

MUSIC WEEK 8 MARCH 2003

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

After it won eight Grammy awards last week, sales of Norah Jones' debut album Come Away With Me rocketed 197%. As a result the album, which previously peaked at number three last August, celebrates its first birthday tomorrow (4 March) at number one.

Moreover, the 70,000 copies it sold last week raise its overall sales to more than a million. Come Away With Me was a slow starter. It sold just 1,903 copies on its first week in the shops to debut at number 108. It made its maiden Top 75 appearance seven weeks later, and the Top 10 after another four weeks.

Remarkably, it has achieved its success although none of the three singles it has spawned has managed to get near the Top 40 - Don't Know Why reached number 59 last May, Feelin' The Same Way peaked at number 72 in August and the title track stalled at number 80 in October.

2 years after Kool & The Gang had a hit with the gripping story of Jones Vs. Jones, two artists with the same surname fought a thrilling battle for album chart honours last week. Veteran Tom Jones' UMTV compilation Greatest Hits, previously at number three, took an early lead, as TV advertising for the album compounded interest in the set generated by the Welsh singer's Outstanding Contribution Brit award. But Norah Jones, who had picked up a pair of Brits herself the previous week for her debut album Come Away With Me, then picked up eight Grammy awards for her album and shot ahead. In the end, a tally of nearly 71,000 sales sealed it.

Norah, leaving Tom in close attendance at number two with sales of more than 68,000. Tom's album was the bigger seller in Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales but Norah more than made up her deficit in England alone.

Aside from Norah Jones, the act to most benefit from a double Brits/Grammy whammy was Coldplay. With a pair of trophies from each ceremony, and rapidly growing airplay for their new single Clocks, their album A Rush Of Blood To The Head increased sales by 63% last week, and climbs 6-4.

With TV advertising helping to offset some very mixed reviews, Appleton's debut album Everything's Eventual is the week's highest debut at number nine. The album, which includes the number two hit Fantasy and the number five follow-up Don't Worry, sold more than 26,000 copies last week. Sisters Nicole and Nat, of course, were formerly 50% of All Saints, whose last studio album Saints & Sinners arrived with significantly more force, debuting at number one in October 2000, with more than 84,000 first week sales.

Combining two 'best of' albums and adding CD-Rom footage of a song from each, The Very Best Of Led Zeppelin: Early Days & Latter Days earns a number 14 debut this week, after selling more than 18,000 copies. Early Days peaked at number 55 in November 1999, while Latter Days reached number 40 when released four months later. Although it charted higher, Latter Days has proven much the weaker album in the long run. Although boasting tracks like Kashmir and Trampled Underfoot, its sales of 26,000 are barely more than a third of the 73,000 Early Days has sold thanks to its formidable line-up of tracks which include Whole Lotta Love, Dazed And Confused and Stairway To Heaven.

COMPILATIONS

Double digit growth in the singles sector (up 16%) and the artist album sector (up 17%) is also reflected by the compilation sector, which grew by 12% last week, with new entries in the top two positions. A keenly contested battle for compilation chart supremacy found the BMG/Telstar collaboration The Very Best Euphoric House Breakdown debuting at number two with 23,123 sales, just 103 fewer than the tally which earns The Very Best Of MTV Unplugged 2 the prime perch for Universal Music Television/WSM.

The MTV Unplugged concept has been with us for some time, and is usually applied to albums by individual artists, but, as its title suggests, The Very Best Of MTV Unplugged 2 is the second in a series which cherry-picks performances from a selection of artists. The first in the series - entitled simply The Very Best Of MTV Unplugged - actually opened at number two with a significantly higher first week tally of nearly 37,000 sales last June but didn't top the chart until the following week, when it sold 26,000 copies. That album's cumulative sale of 193,000 clearly indicated that there was more mileage in the concept, hence The Very Best Of MTV Unplugged Volume 2.

Meanwhile, Scotland Rocks - naturally featuring acts only from north of the border - debuts at number 20. It's the number one compilation in Scotland, where some 83.5% of its overall tally of 4,425 sales occurred. The album includes contributions from Texas, Simple Minds, the Skids, Runrig, Primal Scream and Idlewild, among others.
