SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Generally overshadowed by sister Kylie in chart achievement, Danni Minogue lands her highest-charting hit yet this week, debuting at number two with I Begin To Wonder, easily beating the number eight peak climbed by Kylie's last single Come Into My World. It is quite a purple patch for Danni, who has now reached the Top 10 with three consecutive singles for the first time in her career. Her Who Do You Love Now (Stringer) collaboration with Riva returned her to prominence and started the sequence, reaching number three in December 2001. She returned to solo work with Put The Needle On It, which reached number seven last November. Both Put The Needle On It and I Begin To Wonder are on Danni's upcoming album Neon Nights, which is released a week today (March 17). It is her first album since 1997, when Girl reached number 57 and sold just 15,000 copies.

SINGLES FACTFILE

Despite suffering a 29% dip week-on-week to 42,500 sales, Christina Aguilera's Beautiful comfortably secures a second week at number one, outselling Danni Minogue's I Begin To Wonder by nearly 10,000 copies. Beautiful is the fourth number one in a row to spend more than one week in pole position, marking only the second time this has happened since the turn of the century.

Meanwhile, Eminem extends his Top 10 residency to 14 weeks with Lose Yourself ending its three-month tenure in the upper echelon by dipping 10-14 while his new single Sing For The Moment debuts at number six. Lose Yourself was from the 8 Mile soundtrack 'em, while Sing For The Moment is plucked from the 10-month-old album The Eminem Show, which has already provided the hits Without Me and Cleanin' Out My Closet. Sing For The Moment is Eminem's 10th consecutive Top 10 hit, making him the first rapper to assemble a double-digit sequence of success in the top tier.

When Nelly guested on 'N Sync's last single Girlfriend in April 2002, the result was a number two hit. Nelly's own last single,

Dilemma went one better, reaching number one while 'N Sync's Justin Timberlake reached number two with Cry Me A River just four weeks ago. In the circumstances that would seem to suggest that a Nelly & Justin Timberlake single would be a chart-topper. In reality their Work It collaboration debuts this week at number seven, with sales of 20,000.

Meanwhile, Darius registers his third Top 10 hit – but each has peaked four places lower than its predecessor. Colourblind reached number one, Rushes got to number five and Incredible debuts at number nine. However, Darius is the highest-ranked of a record seven reality TV acts in the Top 40. The Coral are heading in the opposite direction. After breaking into the Top 40 for the first time last July with the number 21 hit Goodbye, they reached number 13 with Dreaming Of You in October and make their Top 10 debut this week with Don't Think You're The First.

Finally, 12 years after reaching number 18, The Mock Turtles' Can You Dig It re-enters the chart a notch lower. Its return to the chart in a new Fatboy Slim/Simon Thornton mix follows months of exposure on Vodafone TV ads.

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Without the blaze of publicity which attended its eight Grammy victories and gave it an enormous boost the week before, Norah Jones' Come Away With Me album was bound to slip a little this week. But it is only a little, with its sales off just 5% at more than 67,500. As mentioned in our US chart round-up (p8), it rebounds to number one in the States this week too. We should note that the US sales week is almost a week behind ours and is only just reflecting the Grammy effect. Although Jones' sale there this week is more than nine times her UK sale, it is interesting to note that Come Away With Me's cumulative total of 1,069,000 sales is actually better on a per capita/pro rata basis than its US sales of 4,221,000.

Come Away With Me is, incidentally, the first breakthrough album to simultaneously top the UK and US chart since September 7 1996, when Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill was number one on both sides of the Atlantic. Morissette had had two previous uncharted releases in the US, however. To find an artist simultaneously at number one in Britain and the US with their debut album we have to go back more than 20 years – to February 19 1983, when Aussie band Men At Work led both lists with Business As Usual.

ALBUMS FACTFILE

A fortnight after registering their first Top Five single with Pain Killer, Turin Brakes repeat the feat on the albums chart, where their second album Ether Song provides this week's highest debut at number four. The south London duo's melodic, acoustic approach has won them support from Radio One and even Radio Two DJs such as Jonathan Ross, who interviewed them on his show last Saturday, Ether Song sold 44,000 copies last week, six times as many as the 7,250 their first album The Optimist sold when debuting at number 39 two years ago this week. Although it departed from the Top 75 two weeks later, The Optimist returned to peak at number 27. It has sold consistently and topped the 200,000 sales mark a couple of days ago. It moves 94-89 on the albums chart this week.

With Beautiful topping the singles chart for the second time, Christina Aguilera's Stripped reaches a new albums chart peak. After twice hitting number four in recent weeks, the album improves 6-2 this week. It sold nearly 49,000 copies – its biggest weekly sale to date – but any hopes that Aguilera might top the singles and albums chart simultaneously were dashed by the strength of Norah Jones' album, which sold 38% more copies last week than Stripped.

Muli Historical Society have released five singles to date, and each has charted higher than its predecessors. With the most recent one, The Final Arrears, having reached number 32 a fortnight ago, the group's second album Us debuts at number 19 after selling more than 11,000 copies. That is well over twice the 4,800 copies their previous album, Loss, sold when debuting at number 43 in 2001. Loss has since gone on to sell more than 50,000 copies. The Final Arrears is the first single from Us and, with more planned, it looks likely to end up well ahead of Loss' total sales.

COMPILATIONS

For the second week in a row, the number one compilation is The Very Best Of MTV Unplugged 2, and for the second week in a row the margin of its victory is minuscule. The unlucky runner-up on both occasions has been The Very Best Euphoric House Breakdown. It debuted last week with sales of 23,123 – 403 fewer than the MTV album. Both albums dip by 8% this week, with the difference between them growing slightly – The Very Best Of MTV Unplugged sold 21,400 copies, 152 more than its shadow.

Although the compilation sector is down 5% week-on-week, it is not lack of new product that is the cause, with four new arrivals in the Top 10. Of these, the most highly placed is Trance Nation – Future. The eighth release in 'the Ministry Of Sound series debuts at number three, with sales of 18,000. While that is some way shy of the three chart-topping albums the series spawned at the beginning of the century, it is a welcome recovery after Trance Nation 2003 spluttered to a number 18 peak last November.

The standard of Cold Feet star John Thompson's singing on the Comic Relief edition of Fame Academy suggests he will not be featuring on a Cold Feet album in the near future. But the series, spun-off from the TV show, is increasingly successful. The very first Cold Feet album reached number 21 for BMG in 1999, and did well enough for them to release a second volume (More Cold Feet) a year later. It climbed as high as number 18. Another year on, the franchise had passed to Universal Music TV. Another album entitled simply Cold Feet climbed to number 13. This week The Very Best Of Cold Feet – also via Universal – debuts at number five with sales of more than 15,000.
