SINGLES COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Eight years after his composition You Are Not Alone was a number one hit for Michael Jackson and six years since his only previous number one in his own right with I Believe I Can Fly, R&B star R Kelly shakes off his ongoing legal problems to stage a surprise return to pole position with Ignition. The first single from Kelly's Chocolate Factory album, it sold upwards of 70,000 copies last week to clinch the title. Unlike I Believe..., which was a huge and widely supported record from the start, Ignition has taken the "street" route to success. Serviced to clubs and key pirate radio stations as long ago as last November, it subsequently built up a huge underground buzz which saw it getting playlisted by 1Xtra, Choice FM and MTV Base. Only when it became apparent it was going to be a major hit did most mainstream radio outlets come on board.

Three years to the week after its last number one as an independent label with Britney Spears' Oops! I Did It Again, Jive registers its first number one as a BMG imprint with R Kelly's Ignition. Kelly's single sold 70,000 copies last week, easily outselling the UK's second favourite single, Favourite Things by Big Brovaz, which sold 43,000 copies.

It is also the 11th anniversary of Kelly's first UK chart entry, She's Got That Vibe, which reached a lowly number 57 in May 1992, although it was later reissued and climbed to number three. In all, Kelly has now had 24 hits, reaching the Top 10 on 10 occasions, but had surprisingly little impact on the album chart. That may be about to change, as Chocolate Factory, which initially peaked at number 41 in February, has moved 87-71-57-42-35-27-17 in the past few weeks. The album's latest position, remarkably, is not only its own highest chart position but the highest for any Kelly album, beating the number 18 peak scaled by his self-titled 1995 album.

Raindrops on roses and whiskers on kittens were chronicled as Favourite Things in the song of the same name by Julie Andrews in the 1965 smash movie The Sound Of Music. Big Brovaz take a more materialistic view, however, and their update of the song, approved by the estates of songwriters Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, reveals a fondness for diamonds, rubies, Bentleys and Gucci dresses. It also brings them their biggest hit to date, debuting at number two, compared with the number three peak of their first single NU Flow and the number seven follow-up OK.

Proving that lightning can strike twice, Transylvanian twins Cheeky Girls register their second major hit this week, debuting at number three with Take Your Shoes Off. Their debut hit Cheeky Song (Touch My Bum) reached number two at Christmas and spent six weeks in the Top 10, eventually selling nearly 400,000 copies.

Two former number ones return to the chart in radical remixes this week. Dead or Alive's You Spin Me Round was a chart-topper in 1985, and re-charts at number 21, ahead of a new DOA hits compilation, while German dance act Snap's Rhythm Is A Dancer is in at number 17, 11 years after it topped the chart.

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Having already had number one albums this year by Norah Jones and Coldplay, EMI's Parlophone label reclaims pole position again this week, with Blur's Think Tank. The Jones and Coldplay albums were admittedly 2002 releases though the former had never topped the chart before it commenced a four week run at the top (the year's best) in March. Blur's arrival at the summit neatly coincides with the 40th anniversary of Parlophone's first ever number one, The Beatles' Please Please Me. Previously something of a Cinderella label for EMI, and very much overshadowed by HMV and Columbia, once Parlophone did manage to its first number one it held the title for an impressive 51 weeks in a row, with Please Please Me's 30-week stint at the summit only coming to an end when the Beatles' follow-up album With The Beatles replaced it at the top and stayed there for a further 21 weeks.

Two of the hottest developing rock acts in the US are Epic's Good Charlotte and Evanescence. Good Charlotte's second album

Brit-pop veterans Blur deliver their fifth consecutive number one of new material with Think Tank, which debuts at the top of the album chart this week after selling nearly 65,000 copies. While that is enough to provide a comfortable victory over runner-up Justin Timberlake, whose Justified relinquishes the crown for the third time, it is well down not only on the opening-week tallies for Blur's last three chart-toppers – 1999's 13 (91,500), 1997's Blur (75,500) and 1995's The Great Escape (127,500) – but also on their Best Of set, which debuted and peaked at number three in 2000 with more than 89,500 first-week sales. Of course, it is not how an album starts but how it finishes that matters, and although Blur's first number one album Parklife opened with sales of less than 28,000 it has gone on to be their biggest seller, with 955,000 sales to date.

TOP CORPORATE GROUPS

achieve their highest placings to date on this week's chart. Evanescence's Fallen opened last week at number 18 and advances to number 12 with a 12% increase in sales week-on-week as radio support for their debut single Bring Me To Life snowballs. Meanwhile, solid airplay support for their upcoming single Girls And Boys triggers a 14% hike in sales of Good Charlotte's The Young And The Hopeless album, catapulting it 21-15 on its 16th appearance in the chart.

Meanwhile, Atlantic's career-spanning The Drifters retrospective The Definitive sold well over 17,000 copies last week, and is rewarded with a number 11 debut, boosted by a comprehensive tracklist and TV advertising.

With Fighter shaping up to become the third consecutive smash from Christina Aguilera's Stripped, the album registers its fourth consecutive climb, jumping 10-6 this week. Stripped debuted at number 19 last autumn, climbed as high as number two in March, and has sold more than 633,000 copies to date.

COMPILATIONS

Moving further ahead at the top of the list of this year's best-selling compilations but further behind the pace set by recent spring editions of Now That's What I Call Music!, Now! 54 tops the compilation chart for the fourth week in a row. It sold just 34,000 copies last week, 37% fewer than the previous week, to take its four-week tally to 362,000. Last year's equivalent, Now! 51, sold 42,000 on its fourth week for a cumulative total of 436,000, while Now! 48 returned 68,000 sales on its fourth week and a cumulative total of 620,000 in 2001. Now! 48 was admittedly the fastest-selling spring Now release ever but Now! 54's cumulative total is 58% of Now! 48's tally at the same stage. Despite its problems, Now! 54 has sold more than half as much again as the second biggest-selling compilation of 2003, the 8 Mile soundtrack, which has sold 240,000 copies thus far this year.

Expectations for the upcoming Matrix Reloaded movie are high, and record shops did brisk business last week selling the soundtrack album, which instantly tops the peak of the 1999 original. With a hard-rocking line-up including Rammstein and the Prodigy, the first Matrix album peaked at a modest number 16 but has proven to be a long-term seller, with sales to date of more than 240,000 copies. Matrix Reloaded debuts at number six this week, with sales of nearly 13,000. It features the return of many artists who were on the first soundtrack – the Deftones, Rob Dougan and Mansun – as well as Paul Oakenfold and Juno Reactor. An opportunist double-disc set entitled The Rock Matrix and featuring similar music and a mock snakeskin sleeve has sold 1,000 copies since its release a month ago.
