SINGLES 5 JULY 2003

SINGLES COMMENTARY

SINGLES FACTFILE

Although unable to maintain its early impetus, which saw it top the first sales flashes on Tuesday, the Blazin' Squad's latest single We Just Be Dreamin' is the highest new entry on this week's chart, debuting at number three. Providing the 10-strong, teenaged Londoners with their fourth straight Top 10 hit in less than 12 months, it is their first new material since their debut album In The Beginning, which spawned their three previous hits including the chart-topping Crossroads. In The Beginning has sold more than 120,000 copies to date, and has perked up in recent weeks thanks partly to the buzz created by the Blazin' Squad's 21date headlining tour, which rolled out in May, and partly to the publicity generated by We Just Be Dreamin, even though it's not on the disc. The album, which debuted and peaked at number 33 last November, increased sales by 32.7% last week alone.

by ALAN JONES

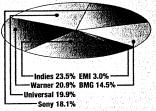

ith a week-on-week decline of just 5.5% in sales to 34,300, Evanescence's debut single Bring Me To Life extends its run atop the chart to four weeks, matching the 28 day reign of its predecessor at the top Ignition by R. Kelly. It is the first time back-toback number ones have spent four or more weeks at the top since late in 1995, when Robson & Jerome spent four weeks at number one with I Believe/Up On The Roof, immediately before Michael Jackson had a sixweek reign with Earth Song. Despite its lengthy stay at number one, Bring Me To Life is currently only the year's 11th biggest seller less than 175 000 sales thus far.

ast Food Rockers' Fast Food Song is also a slowly declining non-mover retaining runners up position for a second week, with sales off a mere 5.8%. Rather grudgingly, radio has started to play the song - mostly on chart shows. Its tally of 114 plays last week brought it an audience of nearly 4.6m, propelling it 367-168 on the airplay chart. Incidentally, a to 48. Our apologies for that, and also for suggesting that Fast Food Song was his first Top 10 hit in the 21st century - that is almost true but Mike also helmed Scooch's More Than I Need To Know, which was number five on the chart three weeks into the century.

It is exactly seven years since Metallica were last glimpsed in the Top 10, but they return to the upper echelon this week with St Anger, the title track and first single from their new album. St Anger debuts at number 10, and is the metal veterans' 17th Top 40 hit in all but only their fourth Top 10 entry.

New Romantic veteran Gary Numan is now 45, and continues to enjoy a fanatical following. Despite getting his usual short shrift from radio. Numan's latest single, Crazier, a collaboration with Scottish producer Rico, is getting huge support from satellite TV station Kerrang! and debuts this week at number 13, giving Numan his highest charting single since this very month 21 years ago, when he reached number nine with We Take Mystery (To Bed) - although the hit Are Friends Electric was incorporated into the Sugababes' number one hit Freak Like Me last year.

ALBUMS COMMENTARY

ALBUMS FACTFILE

No album managed to sell as many as 100,000 copies in any week in the first five months of this year but the six figure target has been breached three times since the beginning of June, with the Stereophonics' You Gotta Go There To Come Back being first to the figure, selling nearly 102,000 copies on its debut four weeks ago, only for Radiohead's Hail To The Thief to trump it the following week, opening with 114,000 sales. Beyonce is the latest artist to reach the figure, debuting at the top of the chart this week with first week sales in excess of 113,000 for her maiden solo album Dangerously In Love, which includes the current number one airplay hit Crazy In Love featuring Jay-Z as well as earlier hits '03 Bonnie & Clyde – another teaming with Jay-Z – and Work it Out. The album also hosts collaborations with several other urban music stars, including Missy Elliott, Sean Paul, OutKast's Big Boi and Luther Vandross.

by ALAN JONES

eyonce's first solo album Dangerously In Love debuts emphatically at number one this week, with sales in excess of 113.000 – nearly three times as many as runners up Evanescence's Fallen. Beyonce therefore trumps bandmate Kelly Rowland, whose debut solo set Simply Deep also debuted at number one in February but with sales of less than 63,000. Rowland's album has gone on to sel more than 315,000 copies to date and is the 11th-biggest-selling artist album of the year. However, it dips 62-83 this week, end ng a 20-week residency in the Top 75. The third member of Destiny's 'Id, Michelle Williams, was actually the a solo album, debuting Heart To Yours in May 2002 but the album was a low key album concentrating on Williams' love of gospel music, and featured songs with titles like Steal Away To Jesus. It proved the devil has all the best tunes by failing to chart, and has sold just 3,200 copies so far.

YEAR TO DATE VERSUS LAST YEAR: Unusually for this time of the year, there are two compilations in the top five. S Club 7's Best moves 4-5, giving up its place to The Greatest Hits Of All: The Very Best Of George Benson, a new 20-song distillation of the singer/guitarist's career, issued by WSM. It immediately beats the number eight peak of the label's 1998 Benson compilation Essentials, which climbed to number eight and sold more than 132,000 copies. In fact, the new album gives Benson his highest-charting album since 1985, when a previous compilation – The Love Songs – became his only number one.

Meanwhile, the late Jim Reeves registers his 27th posthumous chart album with Gentleman Jim – The Definitive Collection. Reeves perished in a plane crash in 1964, at which point he had just two chart albums to his name. His distinctive baritone has remained enduringly popular, and the new compilation – a double disc set including some previously unreleased live recordings sold more than 10,000 copies last week.

compilations

It is a year to the week since Universal Music Television and Blackburn based indie All Around The Wor d's first Clubland collaboration debuted atop the compilation chart, and it celetrates its birthday in style as Clubland III: The Sound Of The Summer – the latest release in the series which has thus far generated nearly a million sales – sets a new standard by debuting at number one with more than 73,500 sales.

The very first C ubland disc reeled off four weeks at number one and eventually sold more than 335,000 copies, though its first week sales were a comparatively modest 47,000. Clubland II followed in November, and opened with sales of nearly 69,000 on its way to a gume of 384,000 but spent just one week at mber one in the highly competitive preonristmas period. Most recently, an offshoot series for harder, edgier, less mainstream dance music – Clubland X-Treme – was launched, and the first release also did exceptionally well, climbing as high as number two and spending six weeks in the Top 10. It has sold nearly 192,000 copies to date, including nearly 4,000 last week.

one album in a row - the first time it has

Clubland III includes hits like Move Your Feet by Junior Senior, Fly On The Wings Of Love by XTM and Can't Make Up My Mind by Sonique as well as lesser-known floor-fillers such as My Time by Dutch featuring Crystal Waters, Come And Fly With Me by Bimbo Jones and Make It On My Own by Piano Pirates. Its margin of victory atop the compilation chart this week is a massive 168%, with Power Ballads a distant second with sales of 27,500. Power Ballads was previously number one for three weeks, and sold its 200,000th copy last week, becoming only the fifth compilation this year to reach that figure.
