

Beyoncé bounces into the number one spot, boosting the singles market by almost 5% and giving Sony a strong lead, while Mis-Teex and S Club 8 also freshen up the Top 10.

1. Beyoncé
The Destiny's Child star tops the singles and albums charts, becoming the first female solo artist to do the double since Kylie Minogue in 2001. Beyoncé's Crazy In Love debut also topped the singles chart with 72,000 sales - the highest for a number one single for seven weeks - while her album enjoys a second week at number one, despite a 23% dip in sales to 80,300.

3. Fast Food Rockers
The latest time a record stalled at number two for three weeks was back in March 2001, when Shakira actually spent four weeks in numbers-up position on his way down from number one. The Fast Food Rockers nearly made it three in a row at number two this week, but just failed to keep up the pace and slip to number three.

4. S Club 8
The chart's most junior attraction - their average age of 14 is four years less than that of runners-up the Blazin' Squad - S Club 8 re-enter the fifth straight Top 10 hit, on sale of just under 20,000. The act sold more than 200,000 copies of their debut hit One Step Closer.

2. Delta Goodrem
Since Coronation Street star Chris Sandford's Hot Too Little Hot hit in 1963, the singles chart has played host to numerous soap stars. Few have been able to translate their success into album sales, but Delta Goodrem looks like being one of them. Her introductory album, Innocent Eyes is the week's highest new entry, debuting at number two with sales of more than 53,000.

3. The Thrills
Irish rockers The Thrills have just about escaped into the Top 20 with their two singles, reaching number 18 with One Horse Town in March and number 17 last month with Big Sur. But their style is clearly more attractive to album buyers and their introductory set So Much For The City sold nearly 50,000 copies last week.

5. Ashanti
In a good week for female solo artists on the chart, Ashanti debuts at number five with sales of more than 30,000. That is well up on the number 72 debut and first week sales of 3,000 for her first, self-titled album.

Chart compiled from actual sales last Sunday to Saturday across a sample of more than 1,000 UK stores

6. Morcheeba
Morcheeba's Parts Of The Process debuts at number six after attracting nearly 29,500 buyers. It equals their previous highest chart placing, as achieved by 2000's Fragments Of Freedom. Surprisingly, Fragments Of Freedom's 262,000 sales are little more than half those of Morcheeba's biggest seller, 1999's Big Calm, which peaked at number 18 but has sold 515,900 copies to date.

THE OSMONDS

13. The Osmonds
The subject of a 79 minute documentary - Being The Osmonds - aired on ITV last Saturday (July 5). The Osmonds are also featured on a brand new double disc Ultimate Collection, which debuts at number 13 this week. The album sold more than 17,500 copies and is their highest charting disc for 29 years.

24. Amy Studt
Promising singer-songwriter Amy Studt, often compared to Avril Lavigne, debuts at number 24 with her debut album False Smiles. Studt made her singles chart debut with Just A Little Girl which reached number 34 a year ago, and has since followed it up with Mistle, which hit number six last month.
