Official UK Charts Company 2004

1. Usher
Usher was the third artist to register two number one singles this year, following in the footsteps of Britney Spears and McFly, but he is the first to have both survive more than one week at the summit. Like Yeah! before it, Burn manages a second week at number one, selling 31,411 copies last week.

3. Elvis Presley
Chasing a record 19th number one, Presley instead registers his fifth number three hit with It's All Right. Released to mark the 50th anniversary of its recording, the song has never been a UK single before and raises Presley's tally of hits posthumously to 116. Coming after the number one success of A Little Less Conversation and the number five Rubberneckin', it gives him a hat-trick of consecutive top five hits for the first time since 1962/63.

4. Will Young
The title track from Youngs second album becomes its third straight top five single this week. Debuting at number four, it follows Leave Right Now (number one last December) and Your Game (number three in March).

Chart compiled from actual sales last Sunday to Saturday, across a sample of more than 3,000 UK stores

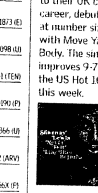
6. Nina Sky
Identical 18 year old twins Natalie and Nicole Albino aka Nina Sky make an impressive start to their UK chart career, debuting at number six with Move Ya Body. The single improves 9-7 on the US Hot 100 this week.



8. Shaznay Lewis
25% of All Saints, and writer or co-writer of all but two of their seven Top 10 singles including the number one hits Never Ever, Bootie Call and Pure Shores, Shaznay Lewis returns after an absence of more than three years to continue her Top 10 career with debut, solo single Never Felt Like This Before, which debuts at number eight. Her album Open is released next week.

19. Damien Rice
Only eight months after Cannonball became Damien Rice's first Top 40 hit, peaking at 32, it returns for a second bite of the cherry – and this time, with massive radio support, it fares much better, debuting at 19. The exposure helps take his album O into the Top 20 for the first time.

The Official UK Singles Chart is produced in co-operation with the BPI and BARD, based on a sample of more than 41,000 record outlets incorporating 7 week 12 inch, cassette and CD singles sales

The Official UK

1. McFly
With two number one singles under their collective belt, McFly make their expected debut atop the album chart with Room On The 3rd Floor, which sold 61,589 copies last week. Their stablemates Busted have yet to top the albums chart, even though they have sold more than 1.9m albums in less than two years. McFly have an average age of just 17 and are thus the youngest band yet to have a UK number one album.

9. Black Eyed Peas
TV ads and the success of fourth single Lets Get It Started, which reached number 11 last week, have boosted Black Eyed Peas' album Elephunk, which rockets 33-9. It is the album's highest placing for 18 weeks, and comes a year and a week after its release, since when it has sold 1.26m copies.

15. Avril Lavigne
Although its release is still three weeks away, Lavigne's single My Happy Ending got massive support from TV and radio last week, climbing 65-11 on TV and 92-73 on the radio airplay chart. The album jumps 18 places as a result; it has moved 1-3-10-19-20-33-15 since it was released in June.

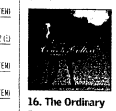
16. Snow Patrol
Spitting Games becomes the third single from Snow Patrol's album Final Straw today (July 12), and jumps 38-22 on the airplay chart, where its support has been growing for several weeks. In tandem with this, Final Straw has perked up considerably, and has climbed for three weeks in a row. Its ups and downs in this spell: 7-8-14-22-26-30-38-39-31-21-16.



16. The Ordinary Boys
Brighton post-punk darlings The Ordinary Boys reached number 36 with Week In Week Out and number 17 with follow-up Talk Talk earlier this year and now deliver their debut album Over The Counter Culture, which arrives amidst a frenzy of favourable press and a flurry of TV advertising, both of which help to lift it to a number 19 debut, with first-week sales of 13,092.

36. Ray Charles
A month after his death from liver cancer at the age of 73, the 2001 Ray Charles compilation The Definitive is the subject of fresh TV promotion re-enters the list at number 36, after an absence of nearly three years. Its cumulative sales are 93,580.
