1. Stereophonics
Helped by a special offer, which allowed fans to purchase the regular and enhanced CDs and DVD for a combined total of £5, Stereophonics' Dakota delivers the Welsh band their 19th Top 40, 10th Top 10 and first number one hit. Dakota sold 40,378 copies last week and is the first single from the band's new album Language. Sex, violence. Other?, which is out next Monday (March 14) but whether Dakota's title is a tribute to a person or a place is not clear, as it appears nowhere in the song's lyrics.

3. Elvis Presley
With first-week sales of 27,600, Rock-A-Hula Baby scored the third best tally yet among Elvis Presley's 70th birthday reissues but still has to settle for a number three debut. The other singles in order of release, and their first-week sales: Jailhouse Rock (21,262). One Night (20,463). A Fool Such As I (20,002). It's How Or Never (21,887). As a You Lonesome Tonight (28,500). Wooden Heart (28,377). Surrender (24,499). (Marie's The Name) His Latest Flame (27,441). So far, Presley has had three number ones, four number ones, four number ones and two number threes in 2005.

4. Cabin Crew
 Sunset Strippers got the lions share of club and radio support in the battle of covers of Waiting For A Star To Fall, but Cabin Crew stole a march on their rival by getting into the shops a week earlier, and land a number four debut as a result. In so doing, they easily eclipse the number nine peak of the 1988 original, by husband-and-wife team George Merrif and Shannon Rubicam aka Boy Meets Girl, who more frequently made their living writing hits such as I Wanna Dance With Somebody for Whitney Houston.

6. Britney Spears
 Spears' new single Do Somethin' was widely expected to be a contender for this week's number one, but in the end it has to settle for a number six debut. It is her 16th top 10 hit from 18 releases so far but its first week sales of 17,486 are the lowest of Spears' career, falling short even of her two non-top 10 hits, Don't Let Me Be The Last To Know (number 12, 2001), and I Love Rock 'n' Roll (13, 2002), which opened with sales of 19,685 and 18,306 respectively.

4. The Carpenters Providing The Carpenters with their highest-charting album since previous "best of" set Only Yesterday reached number one 15 years ago, their Gold: Greatest Hits dashes 17-4 this week, with sales up 254.9% to 53,200. First released in 2000, the album was reactivated last month with a bonus DVD, and is one of the major beneficiaries of the Mother's Day market. The album originally peaked at number 21 in 2000, and has been absent from the charts for more than two years before it re-entered last week. Cumulative sales of Gold are 680,352 units.

8. Jennifer Lopez Lopez picked up the second number one single of her career with Get Right a fortnight ago but there is no such luck for new album Rebirth, which has to settle for a number eight debut. Rebirth sold 40,951 copies last week, easily beating the 27,579 copies Lopez's highest-charting album, J.Lo., sold when it debuted at two in February 2001. Rebirth didn't have Lopez's biggest first week, however -- that honour goes to last album This Is Me...Then, which opened with sales of 47,099 in December 2002, despite debuting at number 13.

12. Patrizio Buanne
Baritone Buanne's debut release The Italian debuts at number 12, after first-week sales of 30,065. Boosted by recent TV appearances - including GMTV and Today With Des & Mel - the 26-year-old from Naples names Dean Martin, Paul Anka and Tom Jones among his idols, and his debut album was recorded with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. It was also apparently boosted by the inclusion of one of his tracks on a recent Mail On Sunday CD, suggesting that there may be some value in putting new artists on newspaper freebies after all.

26. U2
Franz Ferdinand's self-titled debut album topped the 1m sales mark domestically on Tuesday, followed by Green Day's American Idiot on Wednesday, and U2's How to Dismantle An Atomic Bomb on Friday. It's a new experience for the others, but par for the course for U2, who last got there with their previous studio album, 2000's All That You Can Leave Behind - though its tally of 1,083,169 sales will soon be overhauled by How to Dismantle An Atomic Bomb, which sold 18,051 copies last week to bring its cumulative total to 1,093,196 in only 15 weeks.
